Old-Time Czarist City Is Said to Be in 'Dread Danger' by Russians

Soviet Command Says Northwest Army Will Hold Leningrad

(By The Associated Press)
Adolf Hitler's high command reported today that German troops had smashed three main bulwarks of Leningrad's outer defense system, and the Russians acknowledged that the old-time czarist capital was in "dread danger."

Challenging an official Russian order for a fight to defend Leningrad to the death, the Berlin radio declared that if the city were defended it would suffer the fate of Warsaw, which was largely destroyed by Nazi Stukas and siege guns when the Poles refused to surrender.

The Red army northwest command admitted that Leningrad was under "direct threat of attack," but the Russians expressed confidence that the city's defenses—with an estimated garrison of 1,000,000 men—would hold.

Is Reported Aflame
On the southern front, Russia's great Black Sea port of Odessa was reported aflame, blasted by German artillery and Stuka dive-bombers.

The German high command reported that Nazi troops storming toward Leningrad from the south had captured the ancient walled city of Novgorod, 100 miles below Leningrad, in bitter fighting against the Red army defenders.

Only last night, Soviet dispatches declared that a showdown battle for Leningrad was raging about Novgorod and that the town, surrounded by swamps and myriad lakes, was admirably situated for a stone-walled defense.

The Berlin radio, reporting the swift fall of Novgorod, also claimed the capture of Narva, 81 miles southwest of Leningrad, and Kingisepp, the rail gate to Leningrad, 25 miles farther east. This would place the Germans in that sector within 56 miles of Leningrad.

In a critical battle of the Ukraine, the Germans reported that units of the Waffen S. S. (Elite Guard) had seized the strategic town of Kherson, on the west bank of the lower Dnieper river, thereby virtually sealing Red army troops in the Odessa sector.

D.N.B. official German news agency said Nazi siege guns and Stuka dive-bombers were raining havoc on Odessa, inflicting tremendous losses on Soviet troops awaiting embarkation on jammed quays. Great fires were reported raging in many parts of the city.

Amid this desperate plight of the Red Armies in the Ukraine, unconfirmed reports circulated in European listening posts that the Russians had opened a blow-up of the great $100,000,000 Dnieper river dam, near Dnepropetrovsk, in an attempt to stem the Nazi onslaught.

Built by American engineers, the dam is 200 feet high and was the world's largest hydro-electric plant before the construction of Boulder Dam.

German war correspondents said the Russians were establishing a shaky defense line along the Dnieper.

Maloney Says Senate Should Learn Whether Public Is Being Pushed Around

Washington, Aug. 21 (P)—A New England senator today urged a speedy congressional investigation to determine whether the east actually faces a gasoline shortage, as the defense petroleum office sharply reasserts in the case.

"I want to learn if there is an actual shortage or if we are being pushed around for psychological reasons," Senator Maloney (D., Conn.) told reporters, saying he would ask the Senate commerce committee to act immediately on his resolution for an inquiry.

Ralph K. Davis, acting petroleum coordinator, announced yesterday that the long-predicted shortage had developed, that usable reserve stocks had dwindled to an available storage sufficient for only 10 days, and that the situation was "perilous."

Lashes at Prophets
Davies lashed out at the prophets he said had "arisen to proclaim that there is no danger" and that "the warnings of an impending shortage are phony." He spoke in the absence of Secretary of Interior Ickes, who is vacationing in the west.

He cited figures to show that eastern gasoline stocks dropped $33,000 barrels last week, as the increasing effects of the transfer of American oil tankers to British service were felt.

"This is the beginning of the sharp and serious drop in supplies that we forecast," he said. "Figures which have become available today show that reports that stocks on the east coast are in firm and safe conditions are myths."

Government petroleum officials would not say what gasoline supply, in terms of days, was normal, due to fast shifts in demand and supply, but they told newspapermen "it certainly is now less than 10 days."

Capital Feels Shortage
Meanwhile, it appeared that automobile owners in Washington soon would feel the full force of the curtailment program. Local filling station operators were informed that one large oil company would deliver to its retail dealers, between August 16 and 31, only 30 per cent of what they received in July.

On the recommendation of Ickes, the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply last week ordered a cut of 10 per cent in gasoline delivered to filling stations. The station operators were told to apportion the available fuel equitably among competing motorists.

At that time O.P.A.C.S. warned eastern motorists that more drastic action might be necessary, in view of the transfer to Britain of a large number of tankers which formerly carried oil from gulf ports to the eastern seaboard.

First Come, First Served
The majority of dealers have expressed an opinion that if possible local traffic would be protected as far as possible and an effort would be made to see that the reduced allotment of gas for the balance of this month went to steady customers. However, some dealers feel that it will be a case of first come and when their allotment is gone they will have to cease operation.

The amount of gas to be sold by each station for the balance of this month will be based on the sales of that same station during the month of July and the distributor will ascertain the amount of purchases made in July and then deliver the reduced quota which has been set at 10 per cent less than the July purchases. Since the restriction is applicable only for the latter half of August the amount of gas to be delivered will be 45 per cent of the July quota.

Treasury Receipts
Washington, Aug. 21 (P)—The position of the treasury August 19: Receipts $10,690,914.53. Expenditures $35,205,992.17. Net balance $2,631,769,785.03. Working balance included $1,880,223,740.28. Customs receipts for the month $22,011,303.29. Receipts for the fiscal year (July 1) $685,461,016.36. Expenditures $2,606,242,778.16. Excess of expenditures $1,920,781,761.80. Gross debt $50,218,349,991.53. Increase over previous day $12,879,413.86. Gold assets $22,709,615,694.53.

Connecticut Official Says Bad Conditions Exist on Big Plantations

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 21 (P)—Charging that "tobacco road" conditions exist on Connecticut's fertile plantations where children as young as eight years old are employed, State Labor Commissioner Cornelius J. Danaher called today for a "thorough house-cleaning."

The commissioner said that tobacco field conditions menaced "the health, morals, safety and general welfare" of the child workers, in a letter sent yesterday to Ralph C. Lasbury, chairman of the agricultural committee of the state defense council.

Emphasizing that his criticism did not apply to all growers, Danaher said an investigation found "intolerable and disgraceful" conditions on many plantations in the northern Connecticut river valley which harvests a $12,000,000 crop annually.

One high official in a tobacco association commented, however, that he knew of no eight-year-old children being employed and said that "the moral standards on the farms are as good as in any industrial plant in the state."

The commissioner charged that in one case a foreman was accused of "luring improper advances to small boys employed on the farm," offering a position of "straw boss" as a bribe for yielding.

Policy for Remainder of August Is Not Definite; Tourists May Suffer

Many of the local gasoline dealers were notified yesterday by distributors from whom they receive their supply of gasoline as to the amount of gasoline which they could expect for the balance of this month under the recent regulation which reduced the August supply by 10 per cent.

The regulation provides that for the latter half of August the allotment will be 45 per cent of the amount of gas which each station used during July.

What the future holds for the gasoline distributors and the motoring public will depend upon what the present reduction to stations brings about.

Tourists May Suffer
Just what policy will be followed by station proprietors for the balance of August with reduced supplies available, could not be definitely determined but the majority of the station operators were of the belief that local patrons should be protected and some station operators said they would endeavor to cut down on the gas allowed tourists in order to conserve their supply for their steady local customers.

One dealer said in this simply more frequent stops for the long distance tourist is discouraged from taking long trips the limiting of the sale to an individual car would simply mean the tourist would have to make more frequent stops, one dealer pointed out.

The early closing of stations and the nightly "blackout" has not affected many local stations as to amount of gas sold. Motorists simply took aboard a full tank before the deadline and actual volume of sales was affected only slightly.

In some cases demands for full tanks by long distance motorists have even caused some dealers to increase sales at individual stations.

First Come, First Served
The majority of dealers have expressed an opinion that if possible local traffic would be protected as far as possible and an effort would be made to see that the reduced allotment of gas for the balance of this month went to steady customers. However, some dealers feel that it will be a case of first come and when their allotment is gone they will have to cease operation.

Since the restriction is applicable only for the latter half of August the amount of gas to be delivered will be 45 per cent of the July quota.

Paris newspaper Les Nouveaux Temps said those arrested were taken in buses to concentration centers at Drancy where, it was reported in Vichy, they were being held for investigation.

The surprise move followed unrest and firing in the streets as well as public admissions by French and German authorities that sabotage and subversive activities in the conquered capital were reaching dangerous proportions.

London, Aug. 21 (P)—Capt. Elliott Roosevelt, son of President Roosevelt, said in an interview today that if the United States were to enter the war it might not be "determined by us but by some other people."

Asked if American forces felt the allied victory was dependent upon U. S. entrance into the war he replied: "In Britain, how he would leave or where he would go."

6,000 Are Arrested By Police in Paris Because of Unrest

Two Men Reported Killed for Communist Activity Against Germans; Are Put in Camps

Vichy, France, Aug. 21 (P)—Police were reported today to have arrested 6,000 persons in German-occupied Paris.

Most of those arrested in the great roundup, apparently aimed at striking at the sources of growing public unrest in the city, were described as Jews.

At the same time it was learned that two men had been executed by a firing squad for alleged participation in a Communist manifestation against German occupation authorities. They were condemned, presumably by a German court martial, for "activity in favor of the enemy," it was said.

Both German and French police were reported to have taken part in the arrests.

All approaches to each of the four quarters comprising the working class 11th arrondissement were blocked off and subway stations closed to prevent any escape during the five-hour clean-up.

French and German police then swept through the district, stopping all on the streets, conducting house to house searches and going through identity papers.

Those arrested included everybody who could not show he was an Aryan. Those arrested were from about 17 to 50 years of age.

Meanwhile notices appeared on all subway stations outside the district saying trains would not stop at the 11th arrondissement's station, which is at the Place de la Republique.

The Paris newspaper Les Nouveaux Temps said those arrested were taken in buses to concentration centers at Drancy where, it was reported in Vichy, they were being held for investigation.

Jones Will Help Russia May Have Cash

Washington, Aug. 21 (P)—When Russia needs money for her war effort against Germany, the Soviets will find Jesse Jones ready to help out with an R.F.C. loan.

The federal loan administrator revealed at his press conference yesterday that he had already discussed the possibility of a loan with the Russian ambassador, Constantin Oumansky, although matters had not yet reached the formal application stage.

Jones would not indicate the probable size of the loan, but said he "couldn't imagine it would be as big" as the $1,000,000,000 mentioned in rumors.

As for security, he remarked: "I guess we would have to take their promissory note."

He explained that financial help would not be forthcoming until after the Russians had exhausted their cash resources and assets here.

Officers to Leave On Trip to Coast

Sheriff Molyneux and Trooper Metzger Will Bring Prisoner Here

Sheriff Abram F. Molyneux and Trooper John Metzger of the B. C. I. will leave LaGuardia Field Sunday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock by plane for California to bring Salvatore "Trapanio," now being held at Sacramento, back to Ulster county to stand trial on a charge of second degree murder which arises out of the death of Joseph Ballo at Tucker's Corners back in November of 1922.

Ballo was shot to death as he worked in a field on November 10, 1922, near his home. At that time Trapanio was charged with the shooting but because of a long delay in reporting the shooting to the officials "Trapanio" made good his escape and was never located until a few weeks ago when his wife caused his arrest on a minor charge. Then afraid of the consequences when he returned home, he told Sacramento police that he was wanted in Ulster county for murder. In California he had been using the name of John Lombardi.

Sacramento police at first did not credit the story with much truth but notified Sheriff Molyneux and asked for a checkup. Trapanio, alias Lobua, at first denied the charge made by his wife, but later admitted he was wanted in New York state for a shooting. A certified copy of the indictment was forwarded to California and Trapanio waived extradition, but later changed his mind and withdrew the waiver and declined to return voluntarily to face the charge here. Extradition papers were then sought.

Sheriff Molyneux and Trooper Metzger will fly to California but will return with their prisoner by train.

Trapanio, born in Italy, had been working as a machinist helper since he fled from New York after the shooting.

Although 19 years have passed Sheriff Molyneux and State Police have located the only witness to the shooting, Joseph Bonacourse Giordano, who was working in the field with Ballo when the shooting took place. Salvatore Giordano, another important witness, has also been located. The indictment charging Trapanio with murder was returned by the grand jury on December 20, 1922.

F. D. R., Korndorff Confer on Walkout At Kearny Yards

Development Is Expected in Detroit Car, Bus Strike, Donahue Says Today

(By The Associated Press)
In an eleven-hour attempt to halt the 14-day strike at the Kearny, N. J., Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock plant, President Roosevelt conferred today with L. H. Korndorff, company president, and Myron C. Taylor, former board chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, of which the Kearny company is a subsidiary.

Following their White House visit, Taylor and Korndorff were to confer with Secretary of Navy Knox, Sidney Hillman, associate director of O.P.M., and William H. Davis, chairman of the defense mediation board.

White House officials said there was a possibility that Taylor and Korndorff would return to the White House, but that this would depend on what developed at their meeting with Knox, Hillman and Davis.

There were indications, meanwhile, that a development might be expected soon in the city-wide transportation strike tie-up in Detroit. Shortly before a settlement of conferences aimed at settlement of the union jurisdictional dispute there, Thomas J. Donahue, Michigan labor mediation board chairman, declared: "There are signs of a break."

Mayor Edward J. Jeffries of Detroit called for further conferences today with leaders of the two transit unions in an effort to restore service on municipally operated car and bus lines used by hundreds of thousands of defense workers and office employees.

Negotiations which ended shortly after midnight apparently were unproductive and the situation seemed deadlocked then.

Spokesmen for the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway and Motor Coach Operators (A. F. L.) which called the strike spoke of the possibility of sympathy strikes by union members in other city departments.

The A. F. L. organization demands the right to act as sole bargaining agent for employees of the Department of Street Railways. A C. I. O. union, The State, County and Municipal Workers of America, has contested the demand. Mayor Jeffries has taken the position that the A. F. L. is in effect demanding a closed shop, and threatened to "call upon the might of government" to end the tie-up.

Detroiters who drove, hitchhiked or taxied to and from work yesterday were prepared for the same routine again.

The strike at the Kearny, N. J., yards of the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company has tied up work for the past two weeks on $493,000,000 worth of defense orders, including warships for the navy. The C. I. O. Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers is demanding that the company accept a recent recommendation of the National Mediation Board for inclusion of a maintenance of union membership clause in the working contract. That would mean that present and future members of the union would have to maintain good union standing as a requisite of employment.

President Roosevelt has written Korndorff and John Green, president of the union, asking them to put the importance of national defense before them.

President Tells of Sea Conference

Says Principles Agreed Upon Are Clean Cut, Difficult to Oppose for Safety

Warns of Future

Compromised Peace Would Invite Nazi Domination

Washington, Aug. 21 (P)—President Roosevelt, reporting to Congress on his epochal meeting at sea with Prime Minister Churchill, said today the declaration of principles agreed upon there were so clear cut that they would be difficult to oppose "without automatically admitting a willingness to accept compromise" with Nazism.

Hard to Oppose
These principles, the President added in a brief special message, also would be hard to oppose without admitting a willingness "to agree to a world peace which would give to Nazism domination over large numbers of conquered nations."

"Inevitably," Mr. Roosevelt asserted, "such a peace would be a gift to Nazism to take breath—armed breath—for a second war to extend the control over Europe and Asia to the American hemisphere itself."

Mr. Roosevelt said it was perhaps unnecessary to "call attention once more to the utter lack of validity of the spoken or written word of the Nazi government."

He added that it also was unnecessary to point out that the declaration included of necessity "the world need for freedom of religion and freedom of information."

"No society of the world organized under the announced principles could survive without these freedoms which are a part of the whole freedom for which we strive."

'Clear Gains' Cited
The President reported the military and naval conversations at the North Atlantic conference "made clear gains" in furthering the effectiveness of lend-lease aid to countries east and west.

He and the prime minister, Mr. Roosevelt added, are arranging for conferences with Russia to assist it "in its defense against the attack made by the principal aggressor of the modern world—Germany."

In fact, this copy, furnished to Congress in the nature of a report, constituted most of today's message. Only six new paragraphs were included.

The declaration of principles, the President continued, presented a goal "worthwhile for our type of civilization to seek."

Written with pencil and scratch pad in the President's study last night, the message contained a copy of the official statement released by the White House last Thursday covering the eight general aims agreed upon by the prime minister and Mr. Roosevelt.

Since the joint declaration, congressional critics of the administration's foreign policy have charged that the President and Churchill reached an offensive and defensive alliance, basing their case in part on the fact that the declaration gave as a prelude to

Trial Committee of New York Education Board Names Two Teachers

New York, Aug. 21 (P)—The trial committee of the Board of Higher Education has recommended the dismissal of two teachers of the College of the City of New York on the ground they have engaged in Communist activities.

Named by the trial board yesterday were Dr. Walter Scott Neff, psychology instructor, and Seymour A. Copstein, English tutor, both of whom previously denied being members of the Communist party.

The trial board, however, found formally that both are party members and that both are guilty of giving "false and evasive" testimony under oath before the Rapp-Coudert legislative committee investigating subversive activities in New York city schools.

Rotary Visits Camp Happyland

Children at Health Camp Present Delightful Play

Kingston Rotary Club paid its annual visit Wednesday to Camp Happyland and enjoyed a play, "H. M. S. Pinafore," by the 46 young girls who are the guests for the month of August of the Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health. During the month of July a similar number of boys from Kingston and Ulster county were at the local health camp, which is maintained through the sale of Christmas Seals.

Miss Katherine M. Murphy, R.N., county nurse, welcomed the Rotary members and briefly outlined the purpose of the health camp. Besides the proper recreation, sleep and food for the underprivileged child, Miss Murphy stressed the purpose of diet, which program was in conjunction with the national defense movement. Parents of children at the camp are invited to visit the camp to see the program pursued so they may have the necessary knowledge to continue it.

Rotary members were also given a quiz on "How Do Your Food Habits Score?" The questionnaire included the amount of milk, vegetables, eggs, meat, fish, fruit, water, etc., in the daily diet. The playlet presented by the children reflected great credit upon their ability as juvenile actors and also displayed a great amount of zealous work upon the part of the counselors.

The Rotary Club conducted a brief meeting and enjoyed a delightful repast. Announcement was made of the golf match at Foughkeepsie next Wednesday. Among the visitors were Mayor Heislman, Police Chief Phinney and Fire Chief Murphy.

James F. Loughran, program chairman, conducted a tour of the facilities preceding the meeting. With the aid of Alfred Schmid, he demonstrated how the playground equipment could be used. There were no physical or material destruction, which speaks volumes for the sturdiness of the equipment.

Cummings Surrenders

Wellsville, N. Y., Aug. 20 (P)—Claude L. Cummings, 60, Allegany county treasurer missing nearly seven months, has surrendered to face charges of misappropriation of county funds and second degree grand larceny. Sheriff Edison A. Brigham said Cummings was returned to the Allegany county jail at Belmont last night after the treasurer had telegraphed a request that Brigham meet him in Harrisburg, Pa. A bench warrant was issued for Cummings' arrest May 15. A recent report by the state division of audit and control cited a shortage of approximately $6,200 in county funds.

Meal Tickets

Soldiers traveling in small groups where no cooking facilities are available, will receive meal tickets redeemable in any restaurant or railway dining car, according to the War Department. Tickets are good for $1.00 per meal in railway dining cars and 75 cents per meal in restaurants. Previously each soldier received cash to cover the cost of food while traveling. However it was discovered that some of the men were not purchasing a sufficient amount of the right kind of food. Under the new system the army can be reasonably assured that the men will be as well fed while traveling as they are in garrisons.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Aug. 21—Mrs. Donald Boyce and son, Jeffrey, have returned to their home in Liberty after spending three weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Munson.

Several from the village enjoyed the Day Line excursion to Albany Tuesday. Many from the village attended the Ulster county fair yesterday at Forsyth Park in Kingston.

Floyd Ellsworth, son, Walter, accompanied by Edgar Freese and son, Donald of Kingston, attended the police baseball game in Kingston last evening.

The community flower show will be held September 11 in the Reformed Church hall. A Virginia baked ham supper will be served in the Methodist Church hall.

The Priscilla Society of the Methodist Church will hold a food sale August 23 at Crook's store at 2 o'clock. The patronage of the public is solicited and orders may be given to Miss Fern Lynn or Mrs. Wallace Mable or telephone to 2179 W. If desired, orders will be delivered.

Floyd Ellsworth and family called Tuesday evening on Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cole of Ulster Park.

10 Credit Days Remain

Washington, Aug. 20 (P)—The public, it was learned today, still has at least 10 days of easy installment credit ahead of it. The Federal Reserve Board, which is formulating restrictions on time payments, was reported authoritatively to favor a September 1 effective date and to be considering an industry plea for postponing it until September 15. The nature of these restrictions is expected to be made public tomorrow, but they are also believed by responsible officials to follow closely tentative rules made public last week.

Test Roads for Tanks

To aid in the search for the best road material for use in armored division camps and cantonments, a short test road will be constructed at Pine Camp, N. Y. Six types of macadam will be used, each section being approximately 10 by 40 feet. Tests will be made by running tanks at full speed, then bring them to a sudden stop. Other maneuvers will be executed while engineers observe the effect on each type of road material. Information obtained will be used in determining the final type of material to be used.

Urges Labor to Assist on Drive Against Accidents

Syracuse, Aug. 21 — Declaring "we could have licked Hitler with the production we've lost through industrial accidents," Industrial Commissioner Frieda S. Miller urged the New York State Federation of Labor meeting here in convention today to cooperate with the state and management to speed arms output by reducing "the tragic, mounting casualty list in the battle of production."

"There are or ought to be no differences between management and labor on safety and health," Miss Miller told the delegates. "You aren't helping the boss half as much as you are helping yourselves when you cooperate for a really safe industry—particularly now when speed for national defense has tripled the shifts and brought men of lesser experience—less experience not only in the work but in avoiding accidents."

Citing more than a half million industrial accidents in New York state last year and over 58,000—an all-time high for July—Commissioner Miller urged organized labor to write set-ups into their union contracts, and to seek conferences between their own safety committees and those of their employers and of the state.

"Too many of us shrug off industrial accidents as Acts of God," the Commissioner stated. "They're not—most of them are preventable. The man-hours 'lost' in the United States through industrial accidents last year would have built 45 battleships or 30,000 medium bombers. Or a lot of other defense material."

Describing the program of the State Labor Department for safe and healthy working conditions, Miss Miller urged the convention to support her efforts to secure some $65,000 from federal security funds to augment state appropriations for industrial hygiene and to cooperate in a fact-finding survey of pre-employment and periodic medical examinations of workers in state industries.

"I have received complaints from workers and said they were denied employment because of disease which their employers claimed they had and which their own doctors denied existed," Miss Miller said, calling pre-employment medical examinations "an old troublesome" question. "On the other hand, we have been informed of plants where, following such examinations, men were intelligently placed in departments where their physical condition would not be aggravated by the work and where they were actually helped to treatment."

Miss Miller also announced the establishment of a third deputy commissioner in the Department to coordinate safety and health work which has grown increasingly technical and which has been scattered over several divisions of the department. Another function of the deputy is to work out in cooperation with labor and industry effective prevention programs.

Commending for their patriotism the 78 per cent of employed men and women in the August Fortune poll who said they would willingly work 60 hours a week if we were in war and the government put it into effect, the Commissioner said the issue on hours of work was "not one of patriotism and the will to serve one's country" but rather "one of industrial efficiency and output."

"No will to serve their country was ever greater than that of British labor after Dunkirk," Commissioner Miller exclaimed. "Voluntarily they lengthened their hours for their country—to seven days a week, 70 to 80 hours, a week. But with the greatest threat since Napoleon only 20 miles from Dover, they still had to cut their hours to 48 for women and 54 to 60 for men. Not because they weren't willing to work more, but because production was lagging. It is always the same—too long hours lower output."

Miss Miller said that the "headache towering over all" in the year ahead was plans for peacetime readjustment.

"Labor standards will be as basic a part of post-war reorganization as they have been of national defense," the Commissioner stated. "We have realized that planes and guns and tanks won't save democracy if

An Idle Lawn Mower Makes Happy Weeds

Geneva, N. Y., Aug. 21.—There can be no rest for he who pushes the lawn mower even though the grass may not seem to be making any growth and the lawn may look brown and dry, for there is abundant evidence that a profuse crop of narrow-leaved or buckhorn plantain is going to seed on many lawns, declares Prof. M. T. Munn, seed specialist at the State Experiment Station here. Long a student of sources of weed contamination, Professor Munn declares that, "When the lawn mower takes a holiday, the weeds are happy." Not for many years has there been such an outbreak of plantain in lawns as prevails at the present time, asserts this authority, who attributes it largely to discontinuance of mowing due to the dry weather.

"Observations made on hundreds of lawn about the state to discover why certain lawn seeding mixtures fail reveals the very important fact that during the dry weather of the early summer when the grass made no growth to be cut the lawn mower was left in the garage week after week with the result that many lawn weeds, particularly the narrow-leaved plantain or buckhorn plantain as it is known to farmers, went to seed profusely," says Professor Munn.

Produce Thousands of Seeds

These ugly and annoying seed heads on a slender stalk about a foot high are filled with seed, a single plant often producing a thousand seeds or more. The inevitable result will be a more profuse crop of plantain next year or at the next favorable opportunity for this pest to grow.

"Lawn owners should realize," continues Professor Munn, "that weeds take no holiday even though the dry weather forces grasses into a brown dormant condition of inactivity. All weeds must be clipped off regularly before they blossom and well before they form seeds which will mature if one is to have a presentable lawn. It is a mistake to neglect a lawn in summer and then complain to your seedsmen about the weeds. Eternal vigilance is the price one must pay for a good lawn."

A Foreigner in Japan Is a Spy Until He Has Proved Otherwise

By MAX HILL
(AP Feature Service)

Tokyo.—The foreigner, a bit uncertain as to which way he should go because the only signs were in Japanese, went down the stairs into the Ginza station of the subway, there to be engulfed by the mass of Japanese pushing their way into the cars.

He bowed politely to the man in the next seat and asked whether the train were bound for Shibuya, and how many stations away it was.

He was the only foreigner in the car. Around him on all sides were cold glances of suspicion. Why was he there?

The poster says: "Wait a minute! Spy has eyes and ears."

The Japanese, unable to cast aside the traditional courtesy of his race, responded that yes, this was the train for Shibuya. Then he hurriedly got up and moved to another part of the car. There are many Japanese these troubled days who report fellow citizens who talk with foreigners.

Many Germans Evident

Japan today is decidedly spy conscious. Strangely enough this development coincides with the arrival of hundreds of Germans, some of whom have definite official places in the business of censorship and allied matters.

Another foreigner, this time a newspaperman, invited a Japanese friend to have lunch with him, and the next day stern police were on hand to warn the Japanese against such associations. They wanted to know in detail what the two had talked about.

The vernacular and even the government have two favorite terms for the present situation. It is either "delicate" or it is "tense." Four years of depressing warfare in China have driven the Japanese to suspicions which are alien to their nature. They would like to be a friendly, pleasure-enjoying empire, but they can't. Forces out of control drive them on.

Telephone Restrictions

Latest manifestations of the suspicion attached to foreigners came with the new telephone and telegraph regulations. Inside Japan, except within the limits of the city in which you are talking, all telephone conversations must be in Japanese.

This rather effectively keeps

newspaper correspondents in Tokyo, for few if any know Japanese well enough to dictate a story in that language. The moment a word is spoken in another language the circuit is broken.

Let a group of foreigners—Germans and Italians included—gather in the lobby of the once swank Imperial hotel, and almost immediately an unobtrusive Japanese will be seated nearby, studying the ceiling.

Spearhead of the anti-spy campaign, which was marked by a week of special lectures, pictures and posters, is the severe National Defense Security Law, which includes the death penalty for some violations of its provisions. It applies to Japanese and foreigners alike.

Carnival to Be Held at Eddyville Saturday Evening

As has been the custom for the past number of years the annual carnival held under the joint sponsorship of the Sacred Heart Church of Eddyville and the Holy Name Church of Wilbur, will be held on Saturday evening, August 23.

This is one night of the year when all the folks of Eddyville, Wilbur and surrounding country-sides, together with large numbers of summer residents and vacationists, forget about all else and join in a night of song and dance under a sponsorship extremely worthy of their patronage.

The setting for this annual gala affair is atop Cutler Hill in Eddyville. The natural beauty of this old hill will be augmented by hundreds of gaily colored lights and streamers. Novel costumes of the natives and appropriate music will extend the atmosphere of the carnival.

There will be continuous music of the old fashioned and modern varieties to suit the step of old and young.

There will be special events for the children, the feature of which will be the famous pie eating contest which attracts the attention of both young and old.

This is the first carnival held since Father McCabe assumed the pastorate of the Eddyville and Wilbur churches and the various committees are working zealously to make it a success. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Asks for 'New Order'
Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York city called upon the nation today to plan for a "new American order" with the war's end, warning at the same time that the cost of a proper readjustment then will cost "four years" as much as the defense program does now. "It must be a new order suited to our way of life," LaGuardia told delegates to the New York State Federation of Labor's 78th annual convention, "not something vague, poetic, and distant, but something real and tangible." He predicted that in the event of an Axis victory the United States would be forced to maintain its present defense condition for 20 to 25 years.

George Winslow Is Winner of Bicycle

George Winslow, 15, of Lucas avenue extension is a happy boy today. George was declared winner of the bicycle contest at the county fair and walked—or rode—off with the bicycle awarded to the winner by Sears Roebuck. George entered the contest riding a borrowed wheel.

The contest attracted about 125 boys and girls, but Ralph Barrett, who managed the affair, said that about 75 per cent of contestants dropped out at the end of the first round. It was held in the show ring on the lower field at the park and due to the long time it took to dispose of the judging of horses and cattle, so that the ring could be cleared, it was 6:45 before the contest got under way.

Favors Application

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 21—The New York state federation of labor after a brief flurry of debate, went on record today favoring "immediate application of unlimited aid to the peoples of Great Britain, China and Soviet Russia in their heroic struggle against Nazism and Fascism." A lone dissenting vote was cast by Henry B. O'Connell, head of the Rochester

Central Labor Council, who opposed the stand because "we can't try to root Communism out of the labor movement on one hand, and extend help to Soviet Russia on the other."

Accountants Ask Tax Exemptions Be Written Away

Chairman of Committee

Distillers Object

Spirits Institute Reports
Their Taxes Increased
273 Per Cent

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—A recommendation that Congress wipe out completely all the tax exemptions on personal incomes was laid before the Senate finance committee today by Walter A. M. Cooper, chairman of the taxation committee of the American Institute of Accountants.

Present exemptions are $2,000 for married persons and $800 for single individuals. The treasury has recommended a reduction to $1,500 and $750, respectively.

In a prepared statement, Cooper, a resident of White Plains, N. Y., also urged that normal income taxes be withheld at the source on all payments of salaries, dividends, interest "and other fixed or determinable income." Social security taxes now are collected in a similar manner.

Five Considerations

The recommendations, Cooper said, were based on five considerations:

The federal government originally set up the income tax "to add a little 'gravy' to the federal revenue." Now, however, the levy is the government's chief revenue producer.

"Our defense is being developed to protect the right of everyone to live and to earn an income whatsoever and there is no reason why every person in the United States should not contribute a share of that burden, proportionate to the amount of income, if any."

"The imposition of tax on all incomes without exemption would tend to prevent inflation of prices and probably would be more helpful in accomplishing the desired result in that respect than anything heretofore suggested."

"The collection at the source would make the problem of collection simpler than it is today."

"Elimination of exemption would produce a very substantial amount of revenue."

In another field of taxation, the Distilled Spirits Institute told the finance committee in a prepared statement today that taxes on distilled spirits had been increased 273 per cent since repeal and "can be raised to the point where legal sales and public revenues will suffer alike to the benefit of the bootlegger and illicit producer."

Roberts Says Common Aim Must Be Anti-Dictatorship

New York, Aug. 20 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts told the people of the United States last night that their common aim must be to defeat the dictatorships, and Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd asserted the destiny of the nation would be decided by what the people did in the next eight months.

Both spoke at Madison Square Garden at a rally sponsored by the Council for Democracy.

Justice Roberts called upon Americans to create "a world union of self-governing peoples to guarantee and enforce peace on earth."

Rear Admiral Byrd, on leave from the navy, and making his first public address on war issues, asked for "a spontaneous reawakening of all the people, determined on unity, sweat and sacrifice, exactly as if we were fighting a shooting war."

Washington, Aug. 20 (AP)—The White House announced today that President Roosevelt probably would leave late tomorrow for a week-end at Hyde Park, N. The duke will return to Washington with the President Monday morning where he will be a guest at the White House and then set out on a tour of inspection of Norfolk and Baltimore defense plants.

Rondout Has New Section of Dock Front

Freeman Photo

Power Boats Have Better Facilities on Waterfront

Section of Dock Front
Is Already Improved
and Clubhouse Now
Nearly Finished

A section of waterfront along the Rondout creek left deserted for the past several years from now on will add momentum to the efforts of a local group to bring new life to local harbor facilities.

It is a spot now undergoing improvements through the efforts of Ben Rhymer, local power boat enthusiast and the Kingston Power Boat Association and within the next year or two it is expected to pay its dividends as an asset to the city and the region of the Rondout which harbors pleasure yachts and power craft.

The property is adjacent to that of John A. Fischer on Abel street and the part improved is shared by Mr. Rhymer and the Kingston Power Boat Association. The dock improvement, to date, is all on the Rhymer property, but it will be extended to include the frontage of the power boat association where a club house is now in the process of construction.

An estimated 150 feet of the dock now completed already stands as a major improvement for the big annual event of the local boat enthusiasts, the Fourth Annual Regatta of the Kingston Power Boat Association slated for August 24. It provides a better vantage point from which to see the races and this year through assistance of the local Department of Public Works, a section of grand stand seats will be erected along the improved frontage.

Land Improved

Members of the club also have completed preliminary improvements of their property. The land has been cleared and partly graded and steps taken toward future construction of docks and moorings to accommodate visiting yachtsmen as well as members of the association. Plans are also under way to construct a marine railway for the convenience of the members and it is expected that their dockage combined with that of Mr. Rhymer, when completed will give that section of the waterfront at least 300 feet of improved frontage.

Mr. Rhymer, who is a local agent for Chris Craft Marina, is now completing a marine railway capable of hauling cruisers up to 40 feet in length and four-foot draft. He also has graded his property, and built new mooring floats along with his work of rebuilding the dock front.

The power boat association leased its property from the city. It had been purchased by the city several years ago from the Delaware Valley and Kingston Railroad Co. The city bought it to widen Abel street. It has also been used by the Jefferson McCausland Boat Yard and yachts, tugs and barges were once constructed there. The William and John Turk Boat Yards also built barges there and hauled boats on a sectional dry dock.

The property now owned by Mr. Rhymer was formerly used by Consolidated Ice Co., Knickerbocker Ice Co., Jacob Rice Boat Yard, Costello and Gallagher Boat Yards and the Hammond and Egan and Daniel Murphy boat yards.

Began in 1939

The Kingston Power Boat Association originated March 2, 1939, and the late Frank Maurer of Connelly was appointed acting commodore. He was elected to that office for each year thereafter. The first annual regatta of the group which subsequently formed the association was held August 7, 1938. They leased the property August 29, 1940, and began construction of the club house June 20, 1941.

Only eight were present at the organization meeting in 1939 but today the association has 110 members, including 40 boat owners.

Mr. Rhymer joined the association in August, 1940, and in January, 1941, was elected fleet captain. He started selling boats in the fall of 1940 and bought the property which he has since improved, in June of this year. At present he has three cruisers, five inboard runabouts and one outboard runabout moored in his anchorage. This fleet also includes his own 25-foot 1942 model cruiser and a 1941 utility runabout. Six of the owners of these boats are members of the association.

The annual regatta has proved a popular local event and to date has attracted large crowds. Dock improvements this year arranged with local support given arrangements for the event, indicate it again will be well attended.

Officers of Club

Officers of the club are: Neal Bruck, acting commodore; Harvey O. Miller, rear commodore; Donald Schryver, treasurer; Vernon Radcliff, secretary; Ben Rhymer, fleet captain, and Bernard Reilly, messenger.

The regatta officials this year are: Floyd Shaffer, Poughkeepsie, official starter; Ed Coughlin, Kingston, Elliot Collison, Poughkeepsie, official times; George F. White, Jr., Poughkeepsie, flag official; Gene Shea, Poughkeepsie, clock, and Roy Palmer, Saugerties, gun.

The acting judges are: Charles Boettger, senior inspector ship building, U. S. Navy; Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman, Jack Feys, Frank Storms, Edmund Coughlin and Will Lunney.

Honorary judges are: Assistant District Attorney Fred Stang; Judge Harry E. Schirick, Alderman-at-large John Schwenk, John Wolf, Richard Meyer, William Dwyer, Louis Weber, Doc Case, M. Reina, Charles Ryan, Peter Schreiber, D. McEntee, Jr., R. Umpleby, A. J. Raichle, Stephen D. Hiltbrant, O. R. Hiltbrant, Joe Epstein and Jack Haber.

Trophies to be awarded winners of Sunday's events are now on display in the window of Weber's drug store, 55 Broadway, and may be viewed until Sunday morning.

Reports Signed Statement

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 20 (AP)—Capt. William Sullenberger, chief of detectives, announced today that Charles Robert Parson, 23-year-old farmhand, had signed a statement that he sent a letter to Movie Actress Ginger Rogers demanding $25,000. The admission was made, Sullenberger said, while the farmhand was being questioned about threatening notes asking $5,000 from Mayor Dale E. Cary and Alderman J. Edward Wetzel. Sullenberger quoted Parson as saying he expected to use the money collected here to finance a trip to Hollywood. Parson was held without bail on a charge of attempted blackmail.

Fish Says German Victory Boosting Buying Power Here

Philadelphia, Aug. 21 (AP)—Representative Hamilton Fish, New York Republican, asserted last night that a German war victory would increase the Nazi buying power in the United States.

Addressing a meeting of Philadelphia's America First Committee, he asserted:

"If Germany wins, her wage scale and buying power will go up and she will buy more of our products and if she loses her wage scale will go down, which will mean more competition in the world markets with the products of our labor and less buying power to purchase goods in the American market."

Continuing his opposition to President Roosevelt's foreign policy, Fish declared Mr. Roosevelt was lacking in logic when he quoted Abraham Lincoln, "that the war is to be carried on and put through by hard fighting."

"That statement," said Fish, "which is essentially true, was made after war was declared and the Union army had been fighting for over a year."

Color Photography Aids Fruit Picking Experts

Davis, Calif., Aug. 20 (AP)—Color photography is helping experts determine just when and how to pick, store and ship fruit.

Several crates of plums or pears are picked at a given stage of ripeness and photographed. Loaded into refrigerator cars, some are put in the warmest place, others in the coldest place available. Temperatures are recorded automatically all the way across the continent.

On arrival in New York the fruit is photographed again, giving a record of what happened to the color en route.

The experiment is expected to enable growers to select the proper degree of ripeness for picking and the best temperature for shipping.

The University of California College of Agriculture, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Agricultural Adjustment Administration are cooperating in the tests.

MacCracken Cites His View of U. S. Needs

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, president of Vassar College, says, "what our country needs is not empire abroad, but a rebirth of freedom at home, if government by the people is not to perish from the earth."

Dr. MacCracken, analyzing the eight-point agreement signed recently by President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Churchill, spoke last night at an America first committee rally in Carnegie Hall.

At the outset, he said he believed the president's expressed intention to keep the nation out of war, but added that if the United States was committed "to the final destruction of Nazi tyranny, that certainly would be war."

The educator asserted he hoped that "this melodrama of Churchill on the coast of Maine was written in water."

Dannemora Chapel Will Be Dedicated At Special Rites

Felons' Three-Year Labor
Nears Completion at Clinton Prison; Has
106-Foot Spire

Dannemora, N. Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—Somberly-clad felons of Clinton State Prison gather around another kind of "rockpile" August 28 for dedication of the church their sweat and toil has raised to St. Dismas—the "good thief" who died with Christ on Calvary.

For three years, perpetrators of every crime in the calendar have labored in the desolation of this convict-named "Siberia" in northern New York. Convict volunteers chipped, shaped and piled rock upon rock to construct the first prisoner-built house of worship within the walls of any American maximum-security prison.

Beauty and solemnity of the dedication ceremonies will embellish a story which, in symbolizing man's basic brotherhood and hope of redemption, has no counterpart in penal history. Denominational lines fused within a project uniting spiritually the criminals of Golgotha and Dannemora.

Has 106-Foot Spire

The church, 52 by 150 feet in diameter and topped by a 106-foot spire, memorializes the penitent and sainted Dismas who received his "commutation" directly from Jesus Christ as they hung on companion crosses.

The idea of a "cathedral of the condemned" was conceived by Father A. R. Hyland, Catholic chaplain of the prison. "If our men could occasionally live in a different atmosphere, an atmosphere of peace, nearness to God, hundreds would get on the right track by themselves," he reasoned.

The proposal won endorsement of church and state officials and laymen. Labor was assured by approximately 200 inmates, all of whom, State Correction Commissioner John A. Lyons says, "were idle prisoners who volunteered."

The $250,000 for materials came from private sources, donated by those of all faiths. Stone came from a razed prison wall.

The "Magellan" altar, a reconstruction from parts of that which the Portuguese navigator carried to the Philippines in 1521, was presented by Mrs. Maria de La Trobe, of Washington.

Behind ceiling grilles, high above the historic altar, is concealed a $25,000 pipe organ—the donation of two Jews.

British Reach Jibuti

Vichy, unoccupied France, Aug. 20 (AP)—Two British warships have arrived at Jibuti, strategic French Somaliland port, following the shelling of a French ship outside the blockaded harbor, the Jibuti intercolonial radio station said in a broadcast today. The announcer described the situation at Jibuti as serious, but did not give many details.

F. D. R.'s View on Length Of War Is Conservative

Woodstocker Defends Ulster's Americanism

Nancy Schoonmaker
Points to Republican
Background, Hits
Pro-Hitler Charge

Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker, of Woodstock, who now is a resident of New York city in her capacity as chairman of the writers' bureau, America First Committee, New York Chapter, Inc., sends to The Freeman the following letter from Mrs. Josepha Whitney, summer resident of Woodstock:

New York City
August 20, 1941

Editor,
Kingston Daily Freeman,
Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

I believe you may feel that the enclosed letter I have written to a summer resident of Woodstock in which I rise to the defense of Ulster county and the Republican party might be of enough general interest to deserve a place in your Thursday edition—I hope not too far toward the back, maybe even on the front page.

I am not sending the letter from Mrs. Whitney. Since I quoted from it, it seemed hardly necessary to ask for that additional space.

You will be free, of course, to write any sort of head and introduction you see fit.

Faithfully yours,
NANCY SCHOONMAKER

118 East 36th St.,
New York City
August 19, 1941

Mrs. Josepha Whitney,
Sharon, Conn.

Dear Josepha:

Your letter followed me on to New York sometime last week, but I have been so very busy with my editorial job that only now have I found time to answer it.

I think you will not be surprised that I am declining your suggestion to meet you in debate in Town Hall in Woodstock, with Martin Connors as your proposed presiding officer. But it is only fair that I tell you why.

I am unwilling to debate with you, Josepha, for two reasons. The first is the more important.

You say in your letter—and I quote: "It is well known that Ulster county is more pro-Hitler than any other part of the state of New York." I should like here and now to challenge that statement. Ulster county is known as a stronghold of good old conservative Republicanism. By what trick of mind have you convinced yourself that Republicanism is identical with National Socialism?

I have owned a home and lived in Ulster county for almost 20 years. I have spent some ten additional summers there. I have as a candidate, visited every corner of the county. Yet I have, to my knowledge, never met one pro-Hitler person in the county. You have been in Ulster county in all probably less than one year. Yet you lay against it the wholly unfounded charge that it is pro-Hitler. And having laid the charge against the county, you add, "You could come before a more favorable audience than I," which of course puts me in the same class, as pro-Hitler.

On what ground? Because I believe in and seek to serve America first? Because I am unwilling to conscript and send American boys to die on a foreign continent, in a foreign war? Or is it because I have had the temerity to lift my voice in favor of feeding the starving babies of those countries which were England's first line of defense? Because I resigned from the Democratic State Committee in order to try to defeat the nominee whom I had known and watched and worked for for many years and who I believed would do exactly what he has done, seek to embroil us in a foreign war? Or is it, Josepha, just because you have become a victim of war hysteria, unable to vent your feelings in any other way than by name-calling?

Whatever your reason may be, it shows a point of view and a state of mind which I am unwilling to meet on any platform. My second reason for declining your invitation to debate in Woodstock is a less important one.

I have attempted always to keep my professional and I suppose I might say, my controversial life entirely apart from my friendships. I have enjoyed the pleasantly friendly life of the village and the county and have at no time wanted to ruffle its surface with disputes and debates. I have never made a speech in Woodstock, not even when I was a candidate for office. I knew that if my neighbors wished to hear me talk, they would invite me to do so. And they have never done so.

You say in your letter, "I ask you to debate with me because what I have to say should, I believe, be said to the people of Woodstock." No, I have never attempted to be an enlightening missionary to Woodstock, and I

Herriot Expresses Deep Love for U. S. And Great Britain

Former Premier of France
Releases Memoir Which Avoids Mention of Vichy Setup

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—Edouard Herriot, former premier of France and mayor of Lyons, has written "from the depths of solitude" a memoir vibrant with love of the United States and Great Britain.

The current American Mercury, on the stand tomorrow, observes that "the world will recognize this article as an act of courage and patriotism."

The magazine, calling the article the first written since the armistice by a democratic French statesman still residing in France, says it "carefully avoids direct discussion of the current tragedy."

"Among the memories which fill my journal," writes Herriot, "the most precious to me in these tragic days we are living through are the ones that bring back the beginnings of my cordial relations with two nations for which my admiration today is more fervent than ever—Great Britain and the United States."

Herriot speaks mostly of his work as mayor of Lyons, a post he held from 1905 to 1940. He speaks little of his days in the French cabinet or as head of the government, but observes in one place:

"The most beautiful moment in my public life was when in December, 1932, I sacrificed a government over which I presided, in order to respect the signature of France and not to betray our common memories of the last war."

That was when Herriot resigned as premier on the issue of the French debt to the United States. Herriot recalls his first visit to England in 1906, when, with a delegation from the city council, he visited several English cities, and of the impression made upon him by the Englishman's love of liberty.

"After this journey," says Herriot, "I was completely won over to these principles. From then on, I have been convinced that Great Britain and France are two complementary nations destined together to defend liberty, human individuality, human justice. I believe in it today in 1941 just as I believed in 1906."

Herriot tells of improvements made in his city of Lyons as inspired by a visit to the United States, saying that he left the country "with a greater ambition to modernize the city of which I was mayor. . . . Unlike those travelers who talk to us only of American technique, I came away with the conviction that in the United States moral purpose is the motif of all activity."

In concluding his brief memoir, Herriot says "I want to show that I was bound and always will be bound to Great Britain and to the United States."

Referring to President Roosevelt, he writes:

"I would not bring this article to a close without addressing to him an expression of my warm admiration, and without sending him from the depths of my solitude my greetings to the great people of the United States where differing opinions may be freely expressed and where every one, whatever his political group, cherishes a respect for the human being and for moral law."

Granted Divorce

Edna Longendyke has been granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Clifford Longendyke, by Justice Harry E. Schirick, following trial of the action at a special term held August 19 when testimony was taken. Flanagan and Kaercher appeared for the plaintiff. They were married at Port Ewen January 19, 1936. The decree provides that the plaintiff may resume her maiden name.

Two Reach London

London, Aug. 20 (AP)—Paul Appleby, United States undersecretary of Agriculture, and Rudolph Evans, Agricultural Adjustment administrator, arrived here today.

can have no part in helping you assume such a role.

You and I have been friends a very long time, Josepha. I remember how you suffered and how I sympathized during the last war when your eldest son wanted to rush off from school and join the fighting forces of Europe, and how you closed your town house and went off to the country to try to find solace. We have perhaps, more often agreed than disagreed. And I can only hope that our friendship will last on even through the agonies of another war.

Very Sincerely,

Gayda Insists U. S. Intervention Would Drag Out War 10 Years or Longer

Words Are Hollow

Chances Are Gayda's Belief Is, Axis Is Not to Win

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Freeman Special News Service)

Those trying to figure out the probable duration of the European war (and who isn't?) must find special interest in President Roosevelt's assertion that the conflict will continue through 1943, if necessary, and that Britain and the United States will make a survey of needs and production throughout that year.

F.D.R. of course wasn't in any way forecasting the length of the war. However, we are justified in concluding that he and British Premier Churchill believe it may be a protracted one, for if it goes through 1943 it will be more than four years old—and that's a mighty long time when you're talking about mechanized hell.

There's a far reach, though, between four years and the estimate of Virginia Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor who frequently voices Mussolini's views. In discussing the Roosevelt-Churchill war-aim of "final destruction of Nazi tyranny," Signor Gayda declares that "if the proposal were maintained the world war would have to last ten years or longer."

It's humanly possible that the war might run for ten years—or for forty. But that's not the probability, according to the figures in my books. War isn't merely a question of marching men who are willing to die, and big guns. When the smoke of battle begins to lift, the economic fellows get their innings in the matter of the resources of the belligerents.

Gayda Is Keen Analyst

Signor Gayda is a keen analyst—when he wants to be—and I'd bet all of a silver spigance that he believes in his heart the Axis isn't likely to win at all, unless it's able to break through the British blockade to fresh supplies—supplies not only for itself but for the whole of Europe. I've raised that point in this column numerous times before, but it's worth repeating because Britain is placing its main reliance on that blockade to win the war.

Europe is far from self-contained. It can't carry on indefinitely without access to outside supplies. It can't even feed itself and wage war at the same time.

Despite Herr Hitler's best efforts to crack the blockade—and he came close to success at one time early this year—the continent has been slipping further into the slough. Quite apart from war essentials such as oil, there is actual hunger in many countries.

The chief leak in the British blockade was via Siberia and across Russia to Germany. The Soviet itself also provided Hitler with considerable amounts of wheat, and other necessities.

With the invasion of Russia, however, the fuhrer in effect fortified the British blockade at its weakest point, and at the same time erected a further barrier against himself by cutting off Soviet supplies. He undoubtedly hoped to secure necessities by a lightning conquest but expectations of speedy relief have receded because of the fierce Bolshevik resistance.

Hitler may still sweep through the rich Ukraine and on into the oil fields of the Caucasus. His war machine is forging ahead, as is recorded in today's reports from the Russian theatre. Still, instead of a quick victory and filled storehouses, he appeared to be headed for a war of attrition which will further deplete his present supplies.

Halifax Sums Position

British Ambassador Lord Halifax summed the position up rather succinctly when he declared that oil, copper and crude rubber are the trump cards in the hands of freedom. He pointed out that America and Britain together control some 70 per cent of the world's supply of oil, eighty-five per cent of the copper and 91 per cent of the crude rubber.

Hitler's drive against Russia is a terrific drain on all these essentials, especially oil. Don't forget that oil is necessary not only to keep the mechanical equipment of war running, but the factories which produce the equipment. All industry must halt if there is no oil.

Germany still possesses sinews of war, but she has gained much at the expense of other countries. The continent is on the down-grade and slipping fast. Germany cannot exist as an island in the midst of a sea of hunger and privation.

There won't be any ten-year war unless Hitler breaks through to great new sources of supplies, and he must move fast, for the allies are gaining strength hourly.

The combines pre-war area of France, Germany and Spain was about 2,600 square miles less than the area of Quebec.

Navy Robbed of Coal
Brazil's navy was coolly robbed of coal in the harbor of Rio de Janeiro recently, but the fuel was recovered quickly and the thieves arrested. Customs officers detailed to watch the discharge of coal from the freighter "Ivan Topic," had no particular reason to suspect two tenders that cast off casually from the ship, but they did. Following the tenders, the customs men found that the fuel was being taken aboard a ship that had nothing to do with the navy.

The total length of oil, gasoline, and natural gas pipe lines in the United States would make almost 13 loops around the earth.

Switzerland has decreed that a Swiss newsreel must be shown in all motion picture theatres.

Before the war emergency, tanker ships delivered about 1,250,000 barrels of oil daily to eastern seaboard points.
Panama has decreed that all managers of businesses must be natives.

Odd But Science

Ocean Bottom Yields 'Rainbow' Mud
By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(F) Science Editor

New York—Some new handwriting on the ocean bottom, in the form of green and pink pigments, is reported in the proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.
The colors are not prophecy but a record of things that happened in some remote past. The report is by Denis L. Fox and Lloyd J. Anderson of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography, La Jolla, Calif.

These men studied the cores of mud brought up from the bottom of a cylinder which, after being lowered thousands of feet, drives an inverted, open end steel can into the bottom by exploding a charge of powder. It's like shooting a big gun.
They found green pigments nearly 20 feet below the top of the mud. The greens included the stuff of which chlorophyll, the green coloring matter of plants is formed. None was chlorophyll, but all were simpler chemicals, of which the plant color could be made.

The pinks were carotenoids, the pigments which animals convert into vitamin A. In one deep layer of Gulf of Mexico bottom, these pigments were estimated to be 6,000 to 7,000 years old.

Simple to Learn Piano With a Keyboard Chart

Short-Cut Way to Popular Tunes

Fun to lord it over a bunch of jitterbugs with your clever piano playing!

And it's fun you can have, even if a one-finger "bong" is the best you can do right now.

Did you ever hear of the keyboard-chart method of teaching yourself? The chart is a life-size picture of the most used part of your piano keyboard—with each key numbered and its musical note given right with it.

When you stand this chart behind the keyboard, you see at once which notes indicate which keys. And you may soon play popular hits this easy way!

See our diagrams showing numbers in the bass? They correspond to numbered keys on your chart; played together they're a chord.

After you know such basic chords, instead of playing the hard part of a piece you can play just the melody line with your right hand and chords with your left hand. Fun—and once you have your start you may blossom into real jive!

Our 24-page instruction book includes keyboard chart, shows you dozens of chords; explains principles of music, rhythm, has three pieces for practice.

Send ten cents in coin for your copy of "Quick Course in Piano Playing" to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of instruction book.

Blue Ribbon Booth at Fair

There were two blue ribbons awarded for 4-H Club booths at the Ulster County Fair yesterday in Forsyth Park. Above is shown the booth of the Modena 4-H Club. The theme was apples with various types of apple dishes on display such as baked, apple sauce and preserves. Standing at the left is Miss Verda Bernard, vice-president of the club, and on the right is Miss Barbara DuBois, treasurer.

Vacation Vox Pop

Canada has been a popular goal for vacationists from this locality during the year. Today's interview was made with Miss Frieda Feldman of 110 Wall street, who, with her sister, Miss Sadie Feldman, and uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Feldman, of Franklin street, spent last week visiting across the border.

Montreal was reached on the same day. McGill University is at this city as well as Notre Dame Church, which is built on the site as was the first bank chapel in 1600. At Montreal is also found the clock in the flower garden which keeps accurate time. The mechanism is in the ground but the numbers are made of short flower plants. This clock is only an instance of the many well planned parks and gardens. Mt. Royal is the largest park and serves as the recreational center of Montreal. One of the most beautiful drives is along the Cote Ste. Catherine road and through the Outremont suburbs where wealthy residential estates with homes of a French design may be seen. Steep grades lead to Look Out Mountain which is 650 feet above the St. Lawrence river. From this point may be seen the entire southern section of Montreal, a Catholic college whose buildings form a cross, and out in the river, Nun's Island. A museum containing wax historical figures connected with Canadian history is in the city.

The most fascinating spot was the Oratory of St. Joseph or better known as Brother Andre's Shrine. Today it has grown to a huge cathedral style church which is still being built. The windows are of stained glass and there is a pipe organ.

Brother Andre founded the shrine about 50 or 60 years ago when he lived in an apartment over the first chapel which is now situated in back of the present church. The apartment consists of one room with a gas stove, two cots, a table and books. He usually had some ill person staying with him to whom he would give special care and pray for his recovery. The patient would often become entirely cured. The place soon became famous and today thousands travel to the shrine.

As one approaches the church there are three terraces to cross with about 15 steps to each terrace. Those wishing to affect a cure stop for prayer on each step. In the church itself are alcoves where may be seen all kinds of crutches, canes, wheel chairs and declarations of faith left by persons who have recovered.

The terraces are landscaped with lawns which are continually being cut. Each slope is almost perpendicular with a 550 foot drop in all. In order to mow these lawns it is necessary for the workers to move along the top of the terrace moving the 45 pound lawn mower by rope up and down over the grass.

Visit Thousand Islands

From Montreal the tourists motored to Gananoque, a noted fishing spot, on the Canadian side of the St. Lawrence river at the Thousand Islands section. They took the Thousand Islands steamer cruise which took them down river to Brockville and up to Kingston, Ont. It is a 75-mile trip and the excursion boat winds in and out among the islands with a guide describing various points of interest. Frieda said that although she did not count the islands, she is sure there are at least a thousand and a great many of them belong to Edward Noble of the Life Saver Co.

At Zavikon Island is the smallest international bridge in the world. It connects two islands and is half in the United States and half in Canada. Its entire length is not more than 10 feet and of course is just foot bridge.

Ottawa has all of the government buildings and the mint. There are many parks and flower gardens and it was at this city that the travelers saw their first Canadian Royal Mounted Policeman. From first glimpse Frieda thought he looked like Nelson Eddy.

They did not spend much time at Toronto and saw only some old French buildings. Near Kingston, Ont., is an army camp. American soldiers are in training at this station. The men wear the short type of trousers even for dress parade. Some of the soldiers carried sticks and upon inquiry it was found that these are the officers

Draper to Perform at 'V' Ball

PAUL DRAPER

Paul Draper, Dwight Fiske, Mario Braggiotti and Jacques Frey will perform at the "V" Ball at the casino in Stone Ridge Saturday, September 6, for the benefit of the Foster Parent Plan of the British-American Ambulance Corps.

Paul Draper is famous for being among the best tap dancers. For 10 years he has been perfecting his technique. He returned recently from Rio de Janeiro where he had spectacular success and acclaim. Ten years ago, after a brief career as a music critic on a New York newspaper he went to London as a free lance writer. It was while listening to some records of Louis Armstrong and Duke Ellington that it occurred to him that there was no medium to express those same rhythms better than tap-dancing, and he gave up writing to take lessons. Today Paul Draper dances to the music of Bach and Debussy, whether at Radio City Music Hall or in the Chez Paree, one of Chicago's night clubs. Last winter he toured the country in a joint program with his aunt, Ruth Draper, the monologist, and gave two concerts in Chicago.

Mario Braggiotti and Jacques Frey, two-piano team, began playing together 10 years ago and made their debut at the Salle Pleyel, Carnegie Hall of Paris. For two years they have been touring the United States from coast to coast, playing in Washington, Cleveland, Portland, Ore., and have flown back from a concert with the Boston Symphony. Their specialty is caricatures of composers to the theme of Yankee Doodle.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "The Personality of a House," "The Blue Book of Social Usage," etc.)

Gifts Are Seldom Exacted

I'd like to write in capital letters, FEW INVITATIONS AND FEWER ANNOUNCEMENTS CALL FOR PRESENTS. Every day, almost those whose purses are slim, worry themselves into a state of nerves because someone they like, and want to stay liked by, is going to be married, or has an anniversary, or a birthday, or a baby, and they think they have to give a present that will cost more than they can afford.

There are a few occasions when this true—such as a wedding in one's own family, or in that of a really intimate friend. But this obligation is one of relationship or friendship—it has little to do with an invitation. There are many occasions when we want to give a present, but there are almost none that we are obliged to give because of an invitation. The only such invitation I can think of is worded, "Will you come to a shower for Mary?" This literally means, "Will you bring Mary a present?"

Otherwise, send a present if you can and want to, but don't worry when you can't.

Announcing A New Baby

(Having just finished the answer above the very next letter I come to this one:) Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me whether a birth announcement calls for a gift? We have received such an announcement from people we know slightly. At first, I felt quite honored that they would think about us but after a while, I wondered if it meant buying a gift?

Answer: No, it does not mean buying a gift. Since it is not a general American custom to insert birth announcements in the papers, the friends of the young parents have no way of knowing that the baby has arrived. Those who are interested, and who go to see the mother and the baby within the first few weeks, usually do take a gift. But there is no obligation to go to see who is not an intimate friend, and none, whatever, to send a gift.

Pre-Invitation To A Wedding Dear Mrs. Post: When a brother and sister receive one wedding invitation, do they repeat the invitation to the other, and return one answer or does each sign for himself?

Answer: Sister answers (with-out error!) It is true that good taste exacts that a brother and sister be sent separate invitations, but the error was one against form, rather than against courtesy. In fact, when an informal invitation is sent to the sister, inviting both, it is entirely correct for her to answer for both.

Stamps Honor Bible

Two new stamps have been issued by Sweden to commemorate the four hundredth anniversary of the publishing of the first complete translation of the Bible into Swedish, the so-called "King Gustav Vasa Bible." The stamps show the reformers delivering the newly printed Bible to the king. The drawings and engravings were made from an al fresco painting of the 1830's by J. G. Sandberg in the Gustavian crypt of Upsala Cathedral, it is stated in Stockholm.

Girl's Condition Is Fair

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 21 (AP).—The New Haven Hospital described today the condition of Cynthia Taft, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taft of Cincinnati, who is suffering from infantile paralysis, as "satisfactory" and unchanged from yesterday when it first became known that she was a patient here. Dr. Wilder Tileston, the attending physician, said the case was not serious and that the girl, granddaughter of the late President Taft, "is in no danger."

Woodstock

By JANE KENNEDY

Marion Lloyd is busy at the Viletta Theatre with Bob Elwyn rehearsing her play "White Pony" which had a try-out last summer at the Playhouse. Lee Shubert has had an option on the play for a year and Marion Lloyd has been busy all winter on rewrites. The play will be given again in its new version at the Playhouse opening tonight and continuing through Sunday. The play will appear on Broadway this fall. The play as it will be presented tonight is the sixth rewrite.

Miss Lloyd will also have a children's book coming out soon "Penny and Peter from the Island," publisher, Julian Mesner. The author told me that she is also hoping to have some time to write some short stories with the ballet as a background. She is herself a dancer having entered this field after leaving Syracuse University. She studied abroad and danced for six years. For the last five years she has been writing.

In private life Marion Lloyd is the wife of Ivan Triesault, a resident member of the Playhouse group. Mr. Triesault began his career also in ballet and now is teaching the apprentice group dancing and allied subjects as well as turning out some brilliant work as an actor with the Playhouses. He will be the only member of the "White Pony" cast from Woodstock, the others having been engaged from New York. Some of the players appeared last year in the same play when it made its debut in Woodstock. Mr. Triesault will be seen in the role of the Russian musician, Kay Strozzi as Louise Thayer, Robert Shayne as Tony Thayer, Charita Baur as Athie, Patricia Pierdon as Bunny, Marcella Swanson as Paula Trumbull, William Bock as Reginald Farrington, Pauline Myers as Nettie and Lee Parry as Peter.

Woodstockers will remember Miss Strozzi's work in the scene from Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan" when she played it for the Free French celebration this summer at the Playhouse. Miss Strozzi has appeared in many well known plays in New York and has been doing important work in radio and television.

Charita Bauer the charming little ingenue star of this play has been in the theatre since her eighth year, she is now 17 and an accomplished actress. Last winter in New York she was in "Your Loving Son" with Frankie Thomas who appeared last week at the Playhouse. Other plays she has done are: "The Child's Part in 'The Woman,'" "Thunder on the Left" where she also appeared with Frankie, "Remember the Day," "Madame Capet" with Eve Le Gallienne. She has also been active in radio: "Second Husband" with Helen Menken, "The Aldrich Family" as Mary, "March of Time," Kathleen Norris and "Orphans of Divorce." She did one thing for television with Irene Wickers known as the Singing Lady. Patricia Pierdon, who plays Charita's school chum in the play is also a charming youngster of 17 and both girls are close friends in private life just as they are in the play. Both girls began their careers about the same time and they have appeared together in radio in "Cavalcade of America" Patricia as Joan and Charita as Penelope. Charita tells me that she has been studying music and dancing and as she is presented as an aspiring artist in the play it is interesting to know that she is very interested in art. Patricia told me that she has been doing some radio work last winter in "Just Plain Bill," "Mystery Man" and Cavalcade of America. Pauline

Myers played in "Grown Pains" and in the movie version of "Green Pastures." William Bock is an excellent comedian doing two scenes as a salesman. Marcella Swanson played "No more Ladies" with Melven Douglas,

"The Night of January 16th" and "Bachelor Born." Robert Shayne started in stock in Birmingham, Ala. He has been leading man in support of Ethel Barrymore, Ina Clare, Mrs. Patrick Campbell, Laurette Taylor and many other famous players. Last summer Mr. Shayne was with the Vineyard Players at Martha's Vineyard. Lee Parry was in the cast of "White Oaks" starring Ethel Barrymore. This is his fifth summer in stock. The picture which will hang on the set and which enters into the story was painted for Marion Lloyd by Rudolf Bernatschke. Mr. Bernatschke showed in the art gallery last year and this. He had a show in New York last year.

Relief

Maysville, Ky. — Patrolman J. F. Brodt, Jr., flagged a city bus, told driver Roy Mitchell that Mrs. Mitchell just had given birth to a son.

The patrolman ordered Mitchell to the hospital where he could greet the new arrival and said: "I'll take your place at the wheel."

Brodt made one complete trip over the bus route before being relieved by a regular driver.

Gone With the Wind

Winston-Salem, N. C. — A convict at a prison farm near here literally disappeared in a cloud of dust.

Superintendent Bud Flynn said a guard on duty with a crew loading topsoil told him the prisoner "was there when they started loading the truck but when the truck pulled out he was gone."

Hot Dogs

Hollywood, Calif. — John M. Stahl, 59, who has walked 640 miles since July 5, is riding back home to San Francisco.

"I get homesick everytime I see a train," explained Stahl, who has visited 17 missions during his walk-for-health.

How About Doc?

Norman, Okla. — University of Oklahoma professors who hold the title of doctor will have to be content with prof or just plain mister.

President Joseph A. Brandt thinks the Dr. Titles are confusing.

An honorary doctor himself, the new prexy also made it known he's to be called Mr. Brandt or just Joe.

Can't Blame 'Em

Chicago — Sheriffs in the pioneer days of Illinois had a mighty good reason for guarding prisoners closely.

Because, a W. P. A. writers project discovered, it was the law that if a man escaped, the sheriff must "take the offender's place, assume all his debts and pay the fine for which he has been imprisoned."

$8 Opening

Chicago — During every hot spell the last six summers William Pokorny struggled vainly to open a small window of his home. But a burglar came in through the obstinate window, and left the same way—with objects valued at $8.

Lawyer Roosevelt
President Roosevelt practiced law with Carter, Ledyard & Milburn of New York, from 1907 to 1910, and was a member of the firm of Roosevelt & O'Connor from 1924 to 1933.

Boss—What reason have you for wanting a raise? If you can give me two good ones you'll get a boost in pay.

The clerk was silent a moment. Then he smiled.
Clerk—Twins.

And then there's the one about the Scotch girdle, who was too tight to give a rap.

Visitor—My poor man, what is the length of your term?

Man—Depends on politics, lady. I'm the warden.

A Laughing Matter

George Tucker's Favorite Story

An executive, whose office is in New York's Rockefeller Center, found himself troubled, while planning a vacation, over what to do with his treasured tropical fish. Not willing to bother any of his friends with their care, he worked out a simple system of feeding them himself via long distance telephone.

Fishing the carboard out one of his shirts, he fashioned a spoon-like device with a long, narrow handle, and pricked a number of small holes in the spoon end to convert it into a shaker. Next he removed the cover from the telephone box and wired the end of the spoon handle to the bell clapper.

The executive filled the spoon-shaker with fish food, set the fish tank on the floor under the telephone box with the spoon resting lightly on the edge and the shaker part poised above the water. Then he headed vacation ward.

Each night he placed a long distance telephone call to his own empty office and listened complacently to nobody answering it, seeing in his mind's eye the fish food being shifted through the perforated spoon with each vibration of the bell. The fish were in fine fettle on his return, if anything a little fatter than normal.

Ring Unmasks Owner

When Sung Chih-fah, of Shanghai, China, told police a thrilling story of how he had been robbed of $500 by two tough bandits a detective asked him why the robbers had not taken his gold ring. Sung broke down and confessed that he had embezzled the money given him by his brother to pay bills and had invented the story to cover up his crime. Most of the money was found in a bank where Sung had deposited it to his own account.

MADE UP TO KILL

Chapter 22
More About Ashley

CAROL'S eyes were sparkling and for a moment she looked like any girl whose engagement was to be announced in toasts and celebration. Then the light faded from her eyes. "We can't, Steve. People would see us, they'd know."

"I wish to God they would!" "Not Not yet, Steve. Please!" "Well, there's no reason why we can't celebrate here, is there?" I said: "Of course not. I'd love that."

"All right, tomorrow then for dinner. Let's all meet here at five. Carol can give me her key again and I'll sneak in and get things ready. You'll come, Jeff? And Clint?"

Jeff said he would be there in person but Clint demurred. "You young people..." he started to say.

"You're coming!" Steve said. "We'll have champagne and lobster thermidor and..."

"Texas hash?" Jeff asked innocently.

"Caviar," Carol pleaded. "Absolutely! Last week Carol made an astounding discovery. Caviar!"

Jeff grimaced horribly. "Caviar! The undeveloped young of carless fish!"

Carol said, "It's wonderful!" "I wish that fish would hide their children where they can't be found."

"Oh, be quiet!" I said. "You don't have to eat it."

Carol went to the window and threw it open, letting the wind ruffle her hair and the lacy collar of her dress. When she turned back to us she was smiling. "I feel happy again, not afraid."

Just telling you about Steve and me has done it. And a party, that helps too. It makes me feel almost... normal. I thought: "She's really just a little girl. There's going to be a party, a party with caviar, and so everything is all right."

Steve followed her to the window. "If we told everyone and got married, you wouldn't need to be afraid at all. Nothing could hurt you with me around you all the time. I wouldn't let it."

"No," Carol said, turning away. Then her eyes fell upon a crumpled newspaper. She picked it up and turned, appealing to us, thrusting the paper in our faces.

"Look! Look at that! Pictures of me all over the thing. Your family would like that, Steve. The Murder Girl, that's what they're calling me now. Steve Brown weds the Murder Girl. Your family would be sure to love me. No, no, I won't have it!"

"But, Carol..." Steve pleaded, his eyes begging her to listen.

Bowers cleared his throat. "I think you should marry him immediately, Carol. That's my opinion and, having given it, I'll run along. I'll stop in at your party tomorrow."

"Wait, Clint, I'll go with you," Jeff said.

"Where?" I asked.

"Anywhere," he said morosely. "Steve shot my pretty theory out from under me and I've got to dig up another one. I'll call you tomorrow. G'bye."

He opened the door and I saw that Crowley's reassuring figure was stationed outside it once again. When I turned back to Steve and Carol, they were sitting on the floor close by the fireplace and I mumbled a good night that neither of them heard and slipped into my bedroom. I was done in.

With a pile of pillows behind my back, I switched on the bedside lamp. This, I thought, "is my first peaceful moment in seventy-two hours."

I opened the script that Vincent Parker had given me that afternoon. Skimming through the list of characters I found the one that he had marked for Carol. I turned to page one.

Not British
UNDER Jeff's surveillance eye I finished the last morsel of bacon with a sigh and lit a cigarette. I was thinking happily that there was nothing in the world like the first drag of the day's first cigarette when Jeff said, "You smoke too much."

"It keeps me busy," I said in defense. "I don't have a husband and a home and children to keep me occupied like other girls."

"If you stopped smoking you might, Nicotine's a drug," "You smoke."

"It's all right for me. I'm a drug addict."

"If you'd hurry up and solve the murder we could get married and I'd have a home and children. And a husband, too. Then I'd give up smoking."

"I'm solving the murder."

"You're sore at me, aren't you, Jeff?"

"Look, Haila. Today's Thursday. Monday night the murderer strikes at Carol and misses. Tuesday night, murderer strikes, re-misses. I don't catch it. Wednesday I don't catch it. Thursday, I don't catch it. Today's Thursday. You give me hell, was sarcastic. G'wan back to bed."

"I'm sorry, Jeff. And I was. Forgive me."

"No. It's a lucky thing for you we're being joined. He shouted across the restaurant, 'Won't you join us, Tommy?'"

I looked up and saw Tommy Neilson approaching us. He dragged a chair from another

War Cuts Down Spice Supply

Drop in Eastern Commerce Blamed for Another 'Kitchen Shortage.'

WASHINGTON. — The nation's housewives, already asked to give up aluminum pots and pans in the interests of national defense, are faced with a new "kitchen shortage"—a shortage of tea, spices and other imported commodities.

Curtailed of shipping facilities plying between Mediterranean, African, Far Eastern ports and the United States has cut off entirely or depleted supplies of tea, nutmeg, cloves, tapioca, palm and vegetable oils, caraway, celery, mustard and poppy seeds, sage, cream of tartar, olive oil, dates, Arabian coffee for special blends, paprika and extracts used in vanilla and other liquid flavoring.

Moreover, supplies of tung oil used in paint; bamboo used in fishing and ski poles, lightweight furniture; opium, digitalis, belladonna used for medicinal purposes; licorice used in candy and as a coating for pills, and many other imported products are dwindling.

Ships Too Scarce.

Defense officials said that boats formerly carrying these products from other countries are being loaded "to the brim" with tungsten, rubber, tin, mica and other vitally needed armament materials. Mediterranean and Red sea ports, which normally load huge supplies of seeds, olive oil, medicinal and other products, "have been cut off 100 per cent" from our use by the war, one official said.

The office of agricultural defense relations reported at the same time that the inducement offered by higher wages and shorter hours in defense industries is creating a shortage of "hired men" on the nation's farms.

"Farmers in virtually every important agricultural area in the country report the loss of key hired men," the OADR said. "These men are the tractor drivers and the more reliable and industrious farm workers upon whom the farm operators depend."

"Higher wages and shorter hours than on the farm account for the switch from agriculture to industry."

Source in Far East.

Here are some of the products that normally are imported, what they are used for, and the producing countries:

Vegetable tallow—candles, soaps and waxes—China.

Palm oil—soap, shampoo, lard and butter substitutes and tin plate manufacture. The by-product cake is used for cattle feed and fertilizer—Dutch East Indies, Philippines, Africa.

Kapok—insulation, substitute for cork, seat padding, life preservers—Dutch East Indies, Philippines and India.

Sisal and henequen—binder twine, cord rugs, sacks, cement plasters, wall board, paper and "as a substitute for hair"—Dutch East Indies and British East Africa.

Carpet wool—sporting suitings, overcoats, floor coverings, and heavy blankets (only 50 short tons produced in the United States last year)—Ceylon and India.

Coin—brushes, cord, mats and coarse fabrics—Ceylon and India.

Tung oil—drying oil in paints, lacquers, varnishes, brake bands, moistureproof fiber bags—China.

Tragacanth—sizing textiles, calico, inks, cosmetics, foods and adhesives—Near East and Africa.

Policemen in Italy

Bar Women in Shorts

FLORENCE, ITALY. — Police warned the women of Florence that they will be fined if they appear in shorts or slacks. If they are riding bicycles at the time, the bicycles will be confiscated. The newspaper Nazionale commented: "It was about time to take a strong measure against this stupid Hollywood style."

King Cole in English legend is said to have reigned in the 3rd century.

Even vacations are speeding up — the tempo of life's growing faster. Two years ago, even last year, it didn't really make so much difference if you missed reading the newspaper for a couple of weeks. But now, when there are things of vast importance to us as individuals happening every day, we want to read all the news, all the time. So it's a good idea to have your copy of the Kingston Daily Freeman follow you wherever you go on your vacation. Call the Circulation Department — 2200.

Woodland Group Will Give Plays

Early History of Region to Form Themes

"Down Rent," a play based on an incident in local history, will be presented at the Mt. Tremper Reformed Church Tuesday evening, August 26, and at the Shady Methodist Church August 27. The play was written and directed by the oldest group at Camp Woodland, Phenicia, under the direction of Lillian Zaret, dramatics counselor.

Money raised by admission to the performances will be used to benefit the respective churches.

The down rent wars upon which this play is based, took place in the towns surrounding Woodstock, and were part of a larger struggle against a handful of feudalistic manor lords. Names of many families still resident in the area were connected with this episode in history. Most of the incidents depicted in the play took place in and around Shady.

Making plays out of local history is one of the activities of the campers at Woodland. It is the policy of this camp to acquaint city children with the life and history of the Catskill area. The play was written after a series of trips in which many old residents were interviewed, and records consulted at the Woodstock library. After the campers have developed plays they share them with surrounding communities. The plays are given usually for the benefit of churches, young people's groups or Granges.

In addition to "Down Rent," a play will be given at the Mt. Tremper Church based on the building of the new dam and reservoir at Lackawack. Called "Out of the Valley," this play deals with the fate of families forced to move out of the Lackawack valley.

The Shady audience will be favored with a second play. In this performance an episode in the colonial struggle for land in the Hudson valley will be depicted. The play forms a prologue to "Down Rent."

Light From Animals and Many Other Odd Sources

Light is usually associated with heat. All solids begin to glow at 325 degrees Centigrade. But many other agencies besides heat produce light—rubbing, friction, pounding, excitation by electricity or short-wave radiation, etc. Surgeon's tape emits a greenish glow when stripped from a roll. Lumps of sugar luminesce when rubbed together. Quartz pebbles shine when struck by a hammer. When ozone is bubbled through a liquid pyrogallol solution, the liquid glows brightly though no heat is evolved. Not true is the common saying that scientists are still searching for "cold light." Fluorescent and vapor-discharge lamps (e.g., neon, sodium) are true "cold lights" in that heat is not what makes them shine.

Thousands of animal species scattered through 40 orders also emit cold light. They include sponges, jellyfish, earthworms, brittle stars, crustaceans, insects, spiders, molluscs, squid, marine worms, hydroids, phonophores, sea pens, ctenophores, corallines, myriapods, balanoglossids, ascidians, fish. There are also two kinds of luminous plants—certain bacteria and fungi. These are responsible for the dim glowing of damp wood and stale meat, the ghostly glow occasionally seen on human corpses.

Tear Gas Benefits Soil; Destroys Plant Disease

Cornell university plant doctors—the plant pathologists—are using tear gas in a new way. They inject it into the soil of flower gardens, where it destroys many of the organisms that cause plant diseases. The experiments, after three years, have reached a semi-commercial stage. They are conducted in the department of plant pathology by F. L. Stark Jr. and Dr. A. G. Newhall.

The tear gas is injected in shots of about a good-sized thumbtack each, in holes three inches deep and staggered about 10 inches apart. This is done before anything is planted, for the tear gas will destroy all growth. It is very effective in killing all weeds. There are no bad after effects on the fertility or the soil itself, and after three or four weeks the ground is ready for planting.

The gas kills wilt and rot fungi, organisms which normally have the staying power to lie in the soil for five or six years and still be able to attack plants. The gas is particularly effective against nematodes which are barely visible, hair-like organisms that cause knots on roots and lower the vitality of plants.

He said the marriage took place at Yuma, Ariz., July 20, and that they separated 11 days later.

When you are looking for a cut of beef to cook as a pot roast, you will find that the heel of the round has many features to commend it. This is a three-cornered cut weighing between three and five pounds. It consists chiefly of lean meat. There is little waste. It is economical.

This cut is fine in flavor and is often chosen for grinding. Or, it may be cut into cubes for stew. It requires long slow cooking in moist heat for it is one of the less tender cuts. But it is deliciously tender when cooked in the proper way.

BEEF HEEL OF ROUND

This three-cornered cut weighs from three to five pounds and is mostly lean meat. It is a less tender cut, but becomes tender and is delicious in flavor when cooked slowly for a long time.

This cut is a good choice for cooking as sauerbraten, that is when it is allowed to stand in a mixture of oil and vinegar, and when vinegar is added to the liquid in which it is cooked. This gives a special and delicious flavor to the meat and the acid mixture

Ulster's One Day Fair Attracts Largest Crowd to Date

Farm Bureau officials estimated an attendance of about 15,000 persons at the one-day Ulster County Fair and Farmers' Field Day held at Forsyth Park yesterday to see the largest numbers of exhibits and featured attractions since the fair has been held in Kingston. Above are a few photographs that tell of the outing. In the photo on the top left saddle horses in the 15.2-and-over-class await the decision of the judges. First prize was finally awarded to Sheriff Abram

Lake Katrine Grange booth. The theme was agriculture in defense. In the third row of photos are left, a view of the fenced arena giving a small idea of the large crowd as they jam every available inch of space from the camera to over the hill in the background. In the center are Mildred Whitman, left, and Mary Konluk of the Flatbush 4-H Club giving a demonstration from their prize exhibit. Their theme was "Conservation by Level Measurement." On the right is a section of the poultry exhibit, which set a new record for the county fair. In the bottom row on the left, Charles Abernethy and Katherine

Roach flash a victory smile following their award of first place in the Shetland Driving class. In the center is George Winslow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Winslow of Lucas avenue extension, who won the bicycle race at the field day yesterday. Incidentally that smile is primarily due to the fact that the prize for the event was a brand new bike donated by Sears, Roebuck and Co. In the lower right shows a corner of the Home Bureau department display of hooked and rag rugs. In the background is the photographic display, the largest since the exhibits were introduced to the fair a few years ago.

Lake Katrine, Patroon Are Grange Winners

One of the features at the county fair which attracts much interest is the competition among the individual Granges of the county to see which one can produce the most attractive and best arranged booth.

For this competition the Granges are divided into two groups, A and B, the second group representing more particularly the fruit growing section of the county, while the A group represents Granges where more diversified farming is the rule.

Winner of first place in the A group Wednesday was the Lake Katrine Grange, Patroon Grange of Accord placing second and Stone Ridge third.

In the B group, composed of Clintondale, Highland, New Paltz, Milton, Plattkill and Ulster Park, Clintondale Grange won the blue ribbon. Second place went to Milton and Highland took third.

One of the notable decorative features of the Lake Katrine booth was the display of mammoth corn stalks, grown by Myron Boice, on each side of the entrance. They must have been at least 12 feet high—and one of the members claimed they didn't pick out the tallest ones, at that.

Swint Is Champion

John Swint of Madden street won the horseshoe pitching contest at the county fair Wednesday and as county champion is now eligible to enter the state contest at the New York State Fair. The contest was held on the upper field at Forsyth Park, and was in charge of James Gaffney of Clintondale. There were but four entrants in the contest this year.

Ramblers to Appear

The Blue Mountain Ramblers, Pal, Bud, Flinn, Buck, and Curley, will appear at the Livingston Memorial Church, Linlithgo, N. Y., Friday evening, August 22, for a two-hour western show. They will also appear at the Crystal Lake

Hotel, Saugerties Saturday, August 23, for a show and dance.

all kinds entered. Some awards:

Section 1—Holsteins

There were no entries in one class, but of winners in the other 11 classes, six first places went to Harry Beatty; C. L. Schoonmaker of Gardiner took three and Joseph Brill of Briggs street won two.

In the larger entries, produce of same cow, the awards were C. L. Schoonmaker, 1; Joseph Brill, 2; Harry Beatty, 3.

For best young herd, Harry Beatty took first; Joseph Brill 2 and 4; C. L. Schoonmaker, 3.

In the mature herd class there were three entries, the awards being Joseph Brill, 1; C. L. Schoonmaker, 2; R. V. O. DuBois, 3.

Section 2—Guernseys

In the Guernsey section A. H. Chambers, Maple Lane Farm, had by far the largest number of entries. Out of his 18 entries he won nine blue ribbons. John H. Saxe, with nine entries, captured three first places and placed second in four other classes. John F. Kirm of Port Ewen secured one second and three third places.

Section 3—Ayrshires

With the exception of Emil Menk of Glenford, who won a third premium, all entries in the Ayrshire section were from Babcock Farms, which carried off 12 blue ribbons.

Judging of cattle was done by R. W. Bratton.

Poultry Awards

A noted display in the poultry department this year was the largest since the annual county fair was moved to Kingston. Superintendent Franklin Kelder said that in the open class there were 195 birds entered, while an additional 147 birds were entered in the 4-H department. Both exhibits were placed together, the poultry department this year having been moved somewhat up the slope and at the rear of the pavilion, because of demands for space.

Outstanding winners in the open class were: Franklin Kelder, Accord, best pair in the show; best cock, Max Solomon, Kingston; best hen, J. Kross, Ellenville; best cockerel, Robert Kelder, Accord; best pullet, R. V. O. DuBois, Gardiner.

Because of the high class of entries and the increased number, it was nearly 6 o'clock before the judging, which was done by W. S. Van Duzer of Sugar Loaf, Orange county, was completed.

Fruit

Largest exhibitor and sweepstakes winner in the fruit department was M. G. Hurd & Son of Clintondale.

SCORCHED GRAIN IN RUSSIA

per between Dnieperopetrovsk and Kherson, which lies 20 miles above the mouth of the Dnieper.

In the critical battle of Leningrad, Soviet Marshal Klement Voroshilov admitted that the Germans were attacking the city's approaches and dramatically called on the inhabitants to fight to the death.

"Stand firm to the end," he exhorted. "Death to the bloody Fascist German robbers!"

Finns Capture Towns

Reports from Helsinki said Finnish columns fighting on the Karelian Isthmus had captured the towns of Vuoksenranta and Raisala, 65 miles from Leningrad. The capital of old Imperial Russia thus was under assault from three directions.

An Axis threat to Turkey and the Turkish-controlled Dardanelles was reported by foreign diplomatic sources in Ankara.

These sources said advance units of two Nazi army divisions had arrived in Bulgaria. Italian patrols had been scouting the Turkish-Greek border, and Italian garrisons on Greek islands near the Dardanelles had been strengthened.

Besides claiming the capture of three key cities in the main Leningrad defense ring, Hitler's high command announced the "crushing defeat" and partial destruction of 25 Russian divisions — about 375,000 troops — as well as two airborne brigades in a great battle around Gomel, on the central front, midway between Smolensk and Kiev.

The Germans said Red Army prisoners taken in the battle, originally listed at 78,000, had mounted to 84,000.

The mention of air-borne troops indicated that the battle was the same one previously mentioned by the Soviet army newspaper, Red Star, which said Russian counterattacks supported by aerial troops had blasted the Germans out of three defense lines and recaptured five towns in a three-day conflict.

Bases Are Established

Berlin observers said the reported victory indicated the Germans had succeeded in establishing bases for major operations east of the Pinsk marshes, between Smolensk and Kiev, around which their lines previously had sagged dangerously to the west.

In Britain, meanwhile, there were growing demands that the British army attempt to open a new front on the continent while the Germans are engaged with the Russians in the east. Norway and Italy were suggested by some sources as the most likely points for an attack.

There was little overnight action in the air war in the west. The British said a few German planes dropped bombs in East Anglia, but did little damage.

The Germans acknowledged that Soviet bombers had entered northern Germany, but minimized the results of these attacks and mentioned no British raids.

Reports of growing unrest in German-occupied Paris had their sequel today in dispatches from Vichy telling of the arrest of 6,000 persons, largely Jews, by German and French police. The police were said to have thrown a cordon

Asked where his brother, Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., was, he replied: "With his destroyer."

When told that a London newspaper had suggested that his mother came to Britain he replied he knew nothing about such a trip and added, "I don't believe anything would be gained by that."

As for his father coming to Britain he said, "I hope he'll be a private citizen by the time he does and that he can come here to rest."

He said Britain's propaganda effort in the United States could be improved by telling a more vivid story and remarked that London's bomb damage was "not as marked as I had been given the impression."

Improvements Are Rushed

Vichy, Unoccupied France, Aug. 21 (AP)—Reports in German-occupied France today said improvements were being rushed on coastal batteries and air fields at Dakar, the French colony on the most westerly point of Africa nearest America. This information, purporting to come via Tangier, said the work was being hastened while French Generals Maxime Weygand and Auguste Nogues were inspecting shore defenses farther north in Morocco. Meanwhile, Governor Pierre Boisson, defender of Dakar against the British and Free French thrust of last September, has just returned there after an inspection of defenses throughout French Equatorial Africa.

Roosevelt Reports To Congressmen

the desired peace destruction of "the Nazi tyranny."

Mr. Roosevelt ignored this in his message as he did also charges from the same sources that he violated the constitution by having such a meeting in dangerous waters aboard a belligerent warship. One of the meetings was on the British battleship Prince of Wales, others aboard the American cruiser Augusta.

The message today, White House officials said, was suggested by democratic congressional leaders who conferred with the Chief Executive last Monday about his meeting with Churchill.

The President told Congress that because of the factor of safety to British, Canadian and American ships and their personnel "no prior announcement of these meetings could properly be made." This was believed to be the first official announcement that Canadian ships were present at the conference scene.

Text of Message From F. D. R.

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—The text of President Roosevelt's message to Congress on his recent sea conference with Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain follows:

To the Congress of the United States:

Over a week ago I held several important conferences at sea with the British prime minister. Because of the factor of safety to British, Canadian and American ships and their personnel no prior announcement of these meetings could be properly made.

At the close, a public statement by the prime minister and President was made. I quote it for the information of the Congress and for the record:

(Here followed the text of the statement of the conference which was issued by the White House August 14. It included the joint eight-point declaration of common principles.)

The Congress and the President having heretofore determined through the lend-lease act on the national policy of American aid to the democracies which east, and west are waging war against dictatorship, the military and naval conversations at these meetings made clear gains in furthering the effectiveness of this aid.

Furthermore, the prime minister and I are arranging for conferences with the Soviet Union to aid it in its defense against the attack made by the principal aggressor of the modern world—Germany.

Finally, the declaration of principles at this time presents a goal which is worth while for our type of civilization to seek. It is so clear cut that it is difficult to oppose in any major particular without automatically admitting a willingness to accept compromise with Nazism: or to agree to a world peace which would give to Naziism domination over large numbers of conquered nations. Inevitably such a peace would be a gift to Nazism to take breath—armed breath—for a second war to extend the control over Europe and Asia to the American hemisphere itself.

It is perhaps unnecessary for me to call attention once more to the utter lack of validity of the spoken or written word of the Nazi government.

It is also unnecessary for me to point out that the declaration of principles includes of necessity the world need for freedom of religion and freedom of information. No society of the world organized under the announced principles could survive without these freedoms which are a part of the whole freedom for which we strive.

Recs to Play Fuller Brush Team of New York Friday at Stadium; Red Caps Sunday

Fine and Dandies Have Taken 33 Games Out of 37 This Year; Bush Might Hurl

Fresh from their impressive upset victory over the famous Brooklyn Bushwicks Wednesday night the Kingston Recreationers swing back into action Friday night at the stadium against the Fuller Brush Club of New York. The start of the game is scheduled for 9 o'clock.

Although Manager Joe Hoffman hasn't announced any battery nominations it is expected that either Charlie Neff or Bob Bush will get the call. The manager is planning on keeping Billy Ostrom in readiness for the Kansas City Monarchs next Wednesday.

Champions of the Queens Alliance League in the metropolitan area, the Fine and Dandies, as the Fuller team is known, has an enviable record. They have won 33 out of 37 games played this year against some of the best teams in the country.

Members of the Bushwicks who were here Wednesday night, said a good word for the Brushmen, stating that the club has a wealth of good material and should be a popular team in this city when it appears here.

The Fine and Dandies have beaten Artie Sullivan's Hospital State club two games this season and that record speaks for itself, since many fans in this region know of the hospital club's power. The Brushmen will send all of their power against the Recs tomorrow night.

The Fullers have some well-known stars in their lineup ready for Joe Hoffman's charges. John Leznick, second sacker, is a former House of David star who is currently hitting .320. Next year's captain at Fordham, Manuel Gomez, plays short and is considered an up and coming diamond star. His record at the plate hovers about .330.

In the outfield the club has plenty of power and fine defensive skill. Walt Foley, former Bushwick player, is hitting .380. In center field, Angelo Lezich, another ex-house of David, bats around .376. Another former Bushwick, George Robinson, who might get the call to play against the Recreationers, his battery mate is Johnny Reis, formerly with Dayton of the Middle Atlantic League and the Elmhurst Grays of metropolitan New York. Reis comes to Kingston with a batting average of .338.

Although not so well known in these parts, the Fuller Brush team is a strong independent outfit from New York, Kingston, although registering that big upset over the Bushwicks, will have to be on its toes again to win this one.

Yanni Leads Batters

Chuck Yanni, who drove in the winning run in the first inning against the Bushwicks, leads the club in batting with a clip of .375. Chuck has visited the plate 40 times, scored seven runs and has rapped out 15 hits. Jimmy Ashdown is second with .333.

Manager Joe Hoffman's team of regulars including Ostrom, Maines, Ashdown, Kowalek, Sabo, Coleman, Van Herper and Yanni, are hitting at an average of .287. Mac Tiano, who returned to hitting form Wednesday with two sharp singles, plays right field when Ostrom hurls. Otherwise, Billy is in right when either Joe Brown, Bob Bush, Charlie Neff or Bill Thomas pitches.

The batting averages as tabulated by The Freeman sports department:

	AB	R	H	Pct.
Yanni	40	7	15	.375
Stoll	8	0	3	.375
Ashdown	84	21	28	.333
Ostrom	29	9	9	.310
Maines	46	13	13	.282
Van Herper	26	8	7	.269
Sabo	57	8	15	.263
Van Etten	52	8	13	.249
Thomas	46	5	10	.217
Celuch	74	10	16	.216
Tiano	58	8	11	.189
Kowalek	43	4	8	.186
Brown	11	0	2	.181
Bush	25	3	3	.120
Neff	17	0	1	.058

CITY SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Tuesday at Loughran Park the 7th Ward softball team defeated Y. M. C. A. by 9 to 3. The victory enabled the winners to gain first place in City League competition. John Grube hit two homers and Tomaszeski slapped out one round-tripper to pace the attack.

R. Smith hung up his 19th win of the year for the 7th Ward club allowing eight hits. Israel was pounded by the winners who maced his offerings for 14 blows. Thursday at Block Park the 7th Ward team will play Ackers in another City League contest.

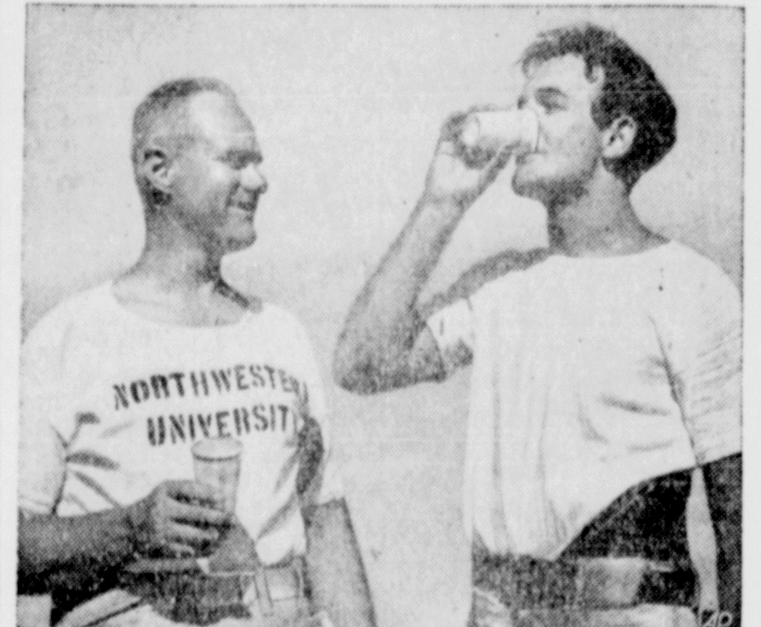

Miller Makes Hits Count

The Timely-Hit prize for 1941 may land in the lap of Eddie Miller, Boston Braves' long-driving shortstop. Ed was batting .822 when he took the lead in the race for No. 1 run-batter-inner of the Braves. In homers, the Tribal shortstop ranks close to Max West, the Boston pacemaker. Ed hit his first six homers of the season in five different ball parks, two of them at the Polo Grounds and one each at Boston, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Philadelphia.

Can Fall Be Far Behind?

Woodstock Holds Seventh Annual Golf Tournament

Many Local Golfers Will Take Part in Today's Event; Is Open to Those Interested

The Woodstock Country Club will hold the seventh annual open golf tournament at Woodstock today. The event last year was won by Charles Yansick of Central Valley and the winner of two years ago was Alex Gurlich of Catskill. Among the amateurs who competed last year from Kingston were Messrs. Frohmer, Pratt and Holcomb. Walter Thiel, the local pro of the Twaalf-skull Club, was a competitor, and is expected to compete again this year.

The tournament generally draws players from Albany and Hudson Valley districts. The event is open to the public. It is expected that another large and excellent field of both professionals and amateurs will compete this year.

Higbe Hard Worker

Kirby Higbe, Brooklyn Dodgers' ace, is leading candidate for "the Bucky Walters of 1941" in length of working hours. Bucky led the league last year with 270 but Iron Man McGinnity's all-time record for a season, 434, will stand.

Sports Roundup

New York, Aug. 21 (The Special News Service)—You hear the strangest things. . . Like the Saratoga story that Eddie Arcaro's perfume is one of the reasons he and Whirlaway get along so well. . . Every time he's been on Whirlaway, Eddie's used a lot of it, and when little Lacko gets a whiff he forgets all about running crooked. . . Southwest grid coaches say it's between Texas and Rice, with the Aggies and Southern Methodist threatening, this fall.

Old-timers around St. Louis watched young Howie Pollet check in with a four-hitter, and recalled a guy named Dizzy Dean bowed into the big leagues with a three-hit whitewash job 'way back in 1930. . . Headline: Williams Hits Five Homers in Two Days

The Pitchers' union must agree that Williams is on quite a spree. On every team he finds his cousins And he knocks 'em off by the dozens. So for their own self preservation And to end their aggravation The hurlers should stop serving Ted Home run balls, and walk him instead.

How-Do-They-Do-It-Dept.

The White Sox, last in club batting in the American League, seventh in fielding, lowest in homer hitting. . . Right now are the hottest club in the loop.

Don't believe a word of that yarn about Yankee Coach Art Fletcher getting the job as Detroit manager. . . He's turned down a lot better bossing jobs than the Tigers can offer. . . The Dodgers, who raised that beef about extra men on the Cubs roster, have it right in their own laps now. . . And Judge Landis has given 'em ten days to cut from 26 to 23. . . When you're talking about eastern grid prospects don't overlook Navy. . . The word is the sailors are really loaded this time. . . The Army's getting ready to grab Don Schiffer, who handles all the National League statistics for Al Munro Elias. . . But will wait 'till after the season's over and the batting averages are out.

Today's Guest Star Al Buck, New York Post: Joe and Marva Louis are coming east on a second honeymoon. . . And all the Bomber has to worry about now is what he calls "that man with the comic punch."

Reverse Jinxish

A peculiar reverse "wait-till-next-year" jinx tossed a bottleneck into the production rate of the National League's lifetime home run king this summer, Melvin Ott, of the New York Giants. When Mel hit his 18th of the season June 27, the boys all wrote "Ott needs only one more homer to tie his output of 19 for the entire 1940 season." So what happened? After hitting 18 in the Giants' first 65 games of the season, averaging one about every 3 1/2 games, Mel went a solid month before he could knock a ball out of the playing area in fair territory during a regulation game. It wasn't until July 29 in Cincinnati that he clicked the clout that tied him with his 1940 season total.

Wassell Needs 100 Games

Any year Jimmy Wassell gets into 100 ball games, he's a cinch to hit better than .300. Let's look at the record. The Brooklyn Dodgers' swift young southpaw reservist (he can play first as well as the outfield) broke into pro ball at Zanesville, hitting .357 in 125 games. In 118 games for Chattanooga in 1937 he clicked .319. In 1939 he had .323 for Minneapolis in 102 contests. Brooklyn's mistake last year was working Wazzie in only 77 games, thus holding him to a .278 average. In his first 60 games this year jovial Jimmy jolted the jubilee at a .319 clip.

Ex-Boston Hurler

The New York Yankees have only one pitcher who ever pitched for any other American League club. That is Charley Ruffing and he joined the Yankees in 1930 which is so long ago that most fans have forgotten his even name.

Cards Defeat Braves Twice 2-0, 3-2; Terry Moore Is 'Beaned' Out for One Week

Dodgers Turn Back Bucs 7-6; Bridges Pitches Tigers to 1-0 Win Over Yankees

(By The Associated Press)

The pennant problem in the National League is getting to be "can the St. Louis Cardinals keep going with all their injuries?" instead of "can the Cardinals beat the Brooklyn Dodgers?"

There have been only five games this season in which Manager Billy Southworth has had available the complete Cardinal lineup and the club's hospital list is beginning to read like a page out of Who's Who in Baseball.

Moore Is 'Beaned'

Topping off a long string of accidents, Terry Moore, the best centerfielder in the league, was struck on the head by a ball pitched by Art Johnson yesterday at Boston. He will be out of action for possibly a week.

Moore is captain of the Redbirds, an invaluable cog in the club, one of the great fielding players in baseball—a 300-plus hitter, and a real Gas-Houser with the heart of a lion.

His loss would be catastrophic to many clubs and may be to the Cardinals. But if it were an isolated case, it would be accepted as one of the breaks of the game. Instead it came just 10 days after slugging Enos Slaughter, the Cards' rightfielder, was lost for the rest of the season with a broken shoulder. Previously the club had lost just about every important member of the squad—

Johnny Mize, Jimmy Brown, Gus Mancuso, Morton Cooper, Walker Cooper, Frank Crespi and others with injuries of one kind or another.

In spite of this procession of trouble the Cardinals have kept right on coming and yesterday they swept a doubleheader from the Braves 2-0 and 3-2. Ernie White, the Cards' great young lefthander, pitched a six-hit shutout in the first game for his 15th victory and Howard Pollett, 20-year-old southpaw just brought up from the Texas League, pitched a four-hitter for his major league debut in the nightcap.

The double triumph enabled the Cards to climb within a game and a half of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who were given a 7-6 handout by the Pittsburgh Pirates for Brooklyn's sixth straight win.

The Dodgers exploded four runs in the first inning, then were overtaken by a six-run rally of the Buccaneers in the third, when Bob Elliott hit a three-run homer. After that the Dodgers threatened often, and tied the score on Pete Reiser's homer in the seventh, but the winning run crossed the plate in the ninth inning when Rightfielder Elliott dropped a fly ball with the bases loaded and two out. It was Pittsburgh's fifth error of the day.

Johnny Allen, waived out of the American League by the St. Louis Browns, received credit for his second National League victory with three innings of scoreless relief pitching for the Dodgers.

The Cincinnati Reds reinforced their third place position by shutting out the poor Phillies twice, 2-0 and 3-0. John Vander Meer allowed only three hits and won his own game with a double in the opener, his 14th success, and Elmer (The Great) Riddle kept six blows scattered for his 14th triumph in the nightcap.

The Chicago Cubs cut loose with a 16-hit attack as Vallee Eaves kept eight hits spaced to beat the New York Giants 9-4.

In the American League the New York Yankees were squeezed out 1-0 by the Detroit Tigers as Tommy Bridges pitched two-hit ball for 10 innings in one of the finest performances of his long career. Ernie Bonham of the Yanks gave up a dozen safeties, but wasn't scored upon until the Bengals bunched three singles in the tenth.

Another Shutout for Sox

The Chicago White Sox chopped another game off the Yankees' ample lead as John Rigney blanked the Philadelphia Athletics 9-0 for the third shutout in two days by a Sox pitcher and Rigney's second shutout in two starts.

The collapsing Cleveland Indians dropped their 14th game in 15 decisions 6-3 to the Washington Senators in a pitching duel between Arne Anderson and Al Smith which was decided in the ninth when the Senators scored four times to Cleveland's two.

Ted Williams hit two home runs, giving him a total of five in two days and 28 for the season, but his Boston Red Sox were beaten in both ends of a double-header by the St. Louis Browns, 11-9, and 4-3. Each team made a dozen hits in the first game, but the Browns grouped five runs in the first inning to keep ahead. The second session was a 10-inning affair finally won on John Berardino's squeeze bunt.

Kingston Police Shellacks Newburgh by 16 to 1 Score

Local Bluecoats Register 13 Runs In Two Innings

Lieut. Fred Stoudt Gets Good Backing to Win Second Game and Sweep Annual Series

The Kingston and Newburgh police baseball clubs had quite a ball game for three innings at municipal stadium last night with Lieut. James V. Simpson's boys out in front by 3 to 1. Then the fireworks broke loose and before three Hilly City hurlers could put out the fire in the fifth inning, Kingston had won its second straight by 16 to 1.

Walt Groff kept Newburgh in the game until his effectiveness faltered in the fourth. Sammy Foster came on and he in turn was relieved by Edwards in the sixth. Kingston tallied 13 runs in the last two frames.

After the hectic struggle at the ball park the Kingston police entertained Newburgh at a banquet at Cuneo's Restaurant on Broadway. The typical "wait until next year" was predicted by the losers.

Stoudt Pitches Victory
Lieut. Fred Stoudt gained his second triumph in the two-game series, hurling six-hit ball. He would have had a shutout except for Frank Sammons' error in the third when the Hilly City club pushed over their lone marker of the battle.

Kingston was the first to tally, driving a run over the plate in the first. Lem Howard reached first when his pop fly by first was misjudged by Presutti. An error by Edwards and a stolen base gave Kingston the run. Newburgh tied it in the third when Paddy Edwards singled, Brady looped out a single and the former scored when Sammons erred on Corkedale's fly into right.

Groff saw the writing on the wall in the third when Howard singled and scored on W. Leonard's triple into short left. Bill's fly dropped in for a legitimate single but he raced all the way to third on some daffy playing. He scored a moment later when Brady threw a ball into left trying to nab Leonard.

Kingston really hit the jackpot in the fourth. Ed Leonard, Tommy McGrane started with hits, Sammons reached on Weller's error in left and Len Relyea topped it off with a double. That finished Groff, who gave way to Sammy Foster. The new flinger fanned Stoudt, Howard reached on a fielder's choice, Maines fanned, W. Leonard was hit in the back and Messing singled to left. Ed Leonard up for the second time, bounced out to Presutti. In all four hits and six runs.

The Simpsonmen put over another haymaker in the fifth. Singles by Tommy McGrane (his third hit), Fred Stoudt, walks to Howard and Maines, Bill Leonard's double and some wildness by Foster pushed across seven runs on three hits.

Press Box Jottings
Kingston was ready to take the field when it was decided to call it off in the sixth. . . Groff, who had Kingston shacked last week, didn't have much last night. Kingston rapped out 12 good hits. . . Tommy McGrane led the attack with three. Bill Leonard and Fred Stoudt collected two. Every local player had at least one hit except Maines. . . Police Chief Phinney threw out the first ball—a high inside pitch that had Paddy Edwards ducking back. . . Foster-Haight-Presutti pulled off a neat double play in the second on Relyea's bounder to short.

Winning Rider Explains 'Big Red's' Only Loss

By FRED HAYDEN

(AP) Feature Service

SARATOGA SPRINGS—Willie Knapp has two celebrations in one every August. His birthday is one event—and the other is just as important to Willie.

Just 22 years ago, on an August afternoon in 1919, Knapp got the greatest thrill of his life. He's the man who was astride Upset when that appropriately named horse handed the immortal Man o' War the only defeat of "Big Red's" classic career.

The two horses reached the wire in the six furlong Sanford Stakes, for juveniles, noses apart. But the velvety tip of Willie's mount was in front for the great upset of all racing history. Ever since that epic event at the historic, tree-bordered course on Union Avenue, old-timers have discussed Man o' War's almost unbelievable defeat. Explanations have been many and varied, but most popular and plausible is the theory that the pint-sized Knapp facetiously tagged "Big Bill" was most responsible for the shocking setback.

Willie, retelling under one of Saratoga's huge paddock trees, seems not much bigger than he did in more active days. Tell-tale lines and seams show in his tanned face but the soft-spoken 53-year-old veteran remains surprisingly fit. Only a few seasons ago, Willie played some snappy third base for our turf writers' team in this rustic old one-month town. But then he bowed a tendon, popped a splint or something. He still likes a game of catch.

We asked "Big Bill" about the upset race and how he rated Man o' War with other equine greats. Bill still recalls the race as though he'd just brought Upset into the Winners' Circle.

"I had Man o' War, who spotted

WILLIE KNAPP
"Just a case of bad luck"

Upset 15 pounds, pocketed—and then only beat him a whisker. If I had known I was being responsible for spoiling the record of such a great horse, I wouldn't have used the tricks of the trade that beat him.

(In those days, it was considered smart horsemanship for a rider to prevent a rival from getting any "breaks" in racing luck. Nowadays, it seems, the rowdy, rough-and-tough aspect has given way to a touch of lavender.)

"Golden Broom got off in front. I was second and Man o' War broke kinda bad, something unusual," Willie recalls. "Mr. Riddle's colt got to running, though, and moved up on the inside near the half-mile pole. I had him in a pocket, hemmed in on the rail. When Golden Broom slowed up in front of us, I eased back at the same time to keep Man o' War trapped.

"Golden Broom stayed on top until the last sixteenth of a mile, where I moved on by. It was not until then that Johnny Loftus, riding Man o' War, was able to take the champ out from the rail. He had to come clear around Golden Broom and my horse and then just barely got beat!"

Willie thinks there has been too much unnecessary gossip about the race; that it was just a case of "bad racing luck" that defeated a great horse.

Was it a grudge race? No, says Knapp:

"Johnny and I were good friends until that race, but then he didn't speak to me for weeks. He finally cooled out, though. I guess he would have done the same to me if he got the chance."

Willie was asked how he compared Man o' War with other greats.

"You've got to rate him high, of course; but I don't know whether he could have beaten Exterminator when both were in top form. Of Bones not only ran over all distances and all kinds of tracks; what's more important, he raced against older horses.

Man o' War never went out of his age division, although he did just about everything else."

Knapp, a native Chicagoan, has been a New Yorker since 1905, when he got a job with Col. E. R. Bradley. Bill rode for the first time in 1901, at Roby, Indiana, and kept at it until 1919. During that time he rode for H. P. Whitney, Willis Sharpe Kilmer (for whom he won a Kentucky Derby on Exterminator), Billy Duboise,

James R. Keene, August Belmont and other turf notables. He recalls important triumphs like the Hopeful Stakes with Peter Pan and Sun Briar; Exterminator's Derby; Lawrence Realization on Vexatious; Brooklyn on Borrower; Dwyer on Purchase; Travers, on Sun Briar, and Lexington Futurity, on Escoba. Bill doesn't remember how many winners he rode, or his earnings.

He says he was one of about seven men who trained Exterminator, winner of four cup races under him in 1921. For Frank Farrell, later, he conditioned Nicholas, Time Exposure, Dimsdale, Horlog and several others.

In the late '20's he raced Under cover and Rocky Prince in his own name. He bought Undercover for $1,000, won about $8,000 in purses with him, then lost the horse via the claiming route for $6,500.

For John O. Hertz, the Chicago sportsman, Willie developed such good ones as Risque (won Alabama and Spinaway here in Saratoga) and two other stakes winners, Pairplay and Valenciennes.

Since leaving the Hertz stable in 1932, Willie has done just "the best I could." He recently acquired his first job as a track official, serving as a patrol judge out at Hollywood Park, Cal. "At liberty" now, Bill's anxious to train horses. He prefers training, but likes patrol judge work on a year-round basis. Knapp thinks ex-riders, with their keen knowledge of racing, make the best patrol judges. One of his two boys, Bill, Jr., worked here in the mutuels department. Young Bill galloped horses for John D. Hertz but was too big to become a jockey.

Newspaper Teams To Play Saturday

Leader, Freeman Softies Meet at Forsyth

After a lay-off of many years, the two newspaper teams of the city, The Leader and The Freeman, will oppose each other in a softball game at Forsyth Park Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Great rivalry has been built up between these two clubs and a fast and furious battle is looked for. Spokesmen of both teams have intimated that their clubs "will win easily." Each paper will use players strictly from its employ. Some good ball playing is expected when stars of yesteryear trot out on the ball field.

Charlie Tiano will lead the Leader into action and promises a battle all the way. Knute Beichert, the manager of The Freeman team, is confident that his ball players will bring in this victory.

Philadelphia (AP)—When Lefty Lee Grissom beat the Giants 18 to 2 in an August game, he left teammate Frank Joseph Hoerst of the Phils as the only pitcher in the majors who had not won a game in 1941 up to that time. The 18-2 victory was Grissom's first of the year.

Whitie Makes History

They call him "Whitie" because his hair is very blonde and if that isn't enough reason, how about his late name? This 2-way "Whitie", Ernest Daniel White, St. Louis Cardinals' southpaw, by winning four National League games in five days in the heat of the first-place fight in late July, reminded ballfans that he's the type of athlete who delights in breaking records. When he pitched his no-hitter against Fort Worth in Houston in 1939 it was the first time the Hall of Fame trick had been performed there since they opened Buffalo Stadium in 1928. It was also the first no-hitter by a Houston pitcher since 1920.

Hails Gordon, Rizzuto
Philadelphia (AP)—Joe Gordon and Phil Rizzuto form the best

second base combination the New York Yankees have ever had in the opinion of Connie Mack, Philadelphia Athletics' manager. "And I'm not forgetting Crosetti and Lazzeri," Connie adds.

Financial and Commercial

To Make Study

New York, Aug. 21 (AP)—The stock market kept its balance fairly well today but many issues exhibited a pronounced reluctance to extending the mild rally of the previous session.

Fractional advances had the best of it for an interval in the forenoon. Prices again began to slip after mid-day and, near the final hour, the direction was notably foggy. Dealings subsided on the irregular shift, with transfers at the rate of approximately 400,000 shares.

The German-Russian war news was a bit depressing marketwise, brokers said, as was the heightening tension in the Far East. Satisfactory business items and a faint tinge of inflationary psychology apparently were the sustaining bullish factors.

Bonds and commodities turned a shade uneven.

Stocks given occasional support—some eventually wavered—were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Great Northern, Standard Oil (N. J.), Cerro de Pasco, Sears Roebuck and Goodyear.

Backward were Paramount Pictures, Warner Bros., Consolidated Edison, Kennecott, General Motors, Sperry and Woolworth.

Salt and Butter New

Born Infants in Europe

In certain parts of Europe and Asia there is a peculiar custom of salting and buttering the newborn. For example, when a baby is born among the Armenians of Russia the mother takes the infant and covers its entire skin with very fine salt. This is left on for three hours or more, and then the child is washed with warm water.

In Asia Minor there is a tribe of people living in the mountains who do even more than this. They salt their newborn offspring and leave the salt on for at least 24 hours. The modern Greeks likewise sprinkle salt on their infants, but not so heavily.

This practice of salting babies is an ancient custom. It has its origin in superstition, of course. The mothers think that salting insures their children health and strength, and that it will keep evil spirits away. Even in some of the outlying sections of Germany salt is still used on the child at birth.

In some Asiatic countries mothers lay their babies where a stream of water, deflected by a large leaf, passes over their heads. This is to make them tough, and also to put them to sleep. The Tartar babe is covered with rancid butter, after the body-greasing habit of the Eskimos.

Whenever Hitler and Mussolini have something to talk about, they get together. That's been going on a long time, and started a style. When Roosevelt and Churchill met, it completed a cycle: all major nations have sent their heads of state or other bigwigs into conference. The war year, 1941 is also a big year for talking it over. Proof:

1. HITLER AND MUSSOLINI met at Brenner pass, a favorite rendezvous, in June. Chief topic, according to Fascist sources, was possible American intervention in the war. Said La Stampa of Turin: "Everything is calculated up to the last consequence."

2. STALIN AND MATSUKAVA met at Moscow.

3. MUSSOLINI AND MATSUKAVA got together at Rome. Japan's foreign minister signed treaty with Russia, attempted to strengthen Axis ties on same trip. Then Axis went to war with Russia.

4. FRANCO AND PETAIN discussed the Mediterranean at Montpellier, France, in February. Petain once was a teacher of Franco, when latter attended military school in France.

5. ROOSEVELT AND CHURCHILL conferred aboard naval vessels in the Atlantic. They discussed "the whole problem of the supply of munitions" and came up with an 8-point program of war aims for the world's two great democracies.

Voting Made Easy For Service Men

Law Similar to That Used for C. C. C.

No eligible voter now in the armed forces of the United States need be deprived of his right to cast a vote this fall at election time since new legislation which became effective this year provides a simple and easy method of casting an absentee vote for every service man.

The provision of the law which relates to men in the service is similar to the law which was passed to allow C. C. C. boys to cast their vote.

Any eligible voter in the service may appear before a specially appointed registration board at the camp where he may be stationed, either within or without the state, and register at any time during July or up until the last day of August. At that time, he also makes application for an absentee ballot.

This report on registration is forwarded to the Secretary of State at Albany and after being registered there the application for an absentee ballot is forwarded by the Secretary of State to the man's local Board of Elections where in compliance with the request for an absentee ballot such ballot is mailed to the absentee voter at his camp or station.

This provision for allowing New York state residents in the armed forces the opportunity to vote through a simple method of application for an absentee ballot at the same time as registering, is almost identical with the method provided by law for persons in federal service.

The absentee vote at election time this fall will be a considerable one, since it is believed many of the men in service will cast their vote.

Martin Carozza of Long Island City, charged with public intoxication, was fined $2.

To Portray Hop Yard During Harvest Time

Geneva, N. Y., Aug. 21—A typical New York state hop yard will confront visitors to the State Fair in Syracuse next week where specialists from the experiment station here will construct a replica of a hop yard at picking time. The exhibit will show the pickers at work and will visualize for State Fair visitors how this unique crop is handled. The experiment station has been carrying on variety and cultural tests with hops in experimental hop yards near Waterville for the past several years and has also conducted much research on the control of diseases of the hop vine as a result of a revival of interest in the crop.

Although still a minor crop in New York state, hop production has increased considerably during the past eight years and from all indications will continue to expand in certain favored areas of the state, according to a summary of the status of the industry prepared by the experiment station workers who are in close touch with growers. It is not anticipated, however, that hop growing in this state will ever attain the popularity it enjoyed in pre-prohibition days.

Area Is Limited

At present most of the hop yards in New York are located in Oneida, Schoharie, Franklin, and Lewis counties, where a combination of soil and climatic factors prevails that is most conducive to the development of high quality hops possessing the aroma for which New York hops are famous. Beginning in 1933 with six growers who were cultivating 29 acres and producing about 14,000 pounds of hops, by the end of 1940 the industry had expanded to 55 growers who cultivated 210 acres and produced approximately 205,000 pounds of hops.

The station exhibit at the State Fair will show a typical setting for a hop yard with hops actually growing on poles as they do in the fields and with a picking box and bags ready for the harvest. Hop picking time was the occasion for much social activity in the "old days" and still is a colorful operation.

Duck Hunters Will Have 60-Day Season This Fall

Interior Department Gives Word That Population of Waterfowl Has Been Doubled

Washington, Aug. 21 (AP)—America's 7,500,000 licensed hunters got official assurance today of a 60-day open season on ducks this fall, along with welcome word from the Fish and Wildlife Service that the waterfowl population had more than doubled since 1935.

The Interior Department's 1941 regulations for shooting migratory gamebirds, announced yesterday, permit northern sportsmen to take to the blinds first, on October 1. Two other broad lateral zones, stretching east-west and having the same general expectations for the advance duck hunting weather, were assigned later opening dates. The season will start in the intermediate zone October 16, and on November 2 in the southern states.

Bag Limit Is 10
A 60-day season and a bag limit of 10 again was set for ducks, but dove hunters saw their shooting period trimmed to a maximum of 42 days. The 15-day season for woodcock was continued.

The Fish and Wildlife Service estimated that about 70,000,000 ducks, geese and other waterfowl would begin winging southward on their long-established flyways with the arrival of cool weather in Canada and the northern United States.

The regulations continue to bar the use of bait or live decoys, and in addition prohibit the use of cattle, horses, or mules as blinds. Hunters may use shotguns not larger than 10 gauge, and repeating and automatic guns must be plugged to take no more than three shells.

Duck and goose shooting hours remain the same—sunrise to 4 p. m.

Dove hunters may start gunning early, in some areas on September 1, but their game will be limited. A drastic reduction in the shooting season for mourning doves was ordered, a survey showing the numbers of these birds were "decidedly unsatisfactory." The seasons were reduced to a maximum of 42 days, against shooting periods as long as 77 days in some areas last year.
